Contest Editor's
Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS.

Please do not send your solutions to the Advocate before June 1st. In mailing solutions be sure to write your name and address upon the outside of the package and be sure to attach sufficient postage to insure delivery. The Advocate can not accept answers unless the postage is fully paid.

J. P. L.—Will give your letter immediate attention.

A. E. S., Somerset—Very glad you are pleased with the 10-day extension of time in the Booklovers' contest. You may obtain coupons to June 5, your answers must be submitted by June 10.

C. M., Caldwell—As you are not a resident of Licking or an adjoining county you can not compete in the Booklovers' contest. Several outside of the district are in the contest helping friends who reside in the contest territory.

A. R. G.—If you send more than one answer to the pictures it would seem that your chance would be better than to submit only one answer for each of the 70 pictures.

way to check his campaign against Huerta's forces.

Carranza's reported consent to a plan for sending a representative to the Niagara conference, and Secretary Bryan's renewed efforts to learn the rate of John R. Silliman, American vice-consul, who has been held by Huerta soldiers at Saltillo, were absorbing features in the Mexican situation here today.

Dispatches from Niagara Falls stating that it was not generally believed the constitutionalist representative would be admitted to the negotiations at this stage excited little comment here. It was pointed out that if Carranza did send an emissary he would go to inform the mediators of the northern faction's general aims; he would not commit the constitutionalists to any specific plan for Mexico's pacification that the envoys might suggest.

Announcement of the constitutionalists' plans, however, was received with satisfaction in official and diplomatic circles as opening an avenue, ultimately, for a general discussion of proposals to settle the entire Mexican problem. The agent said to have been chosen to go to Niagara Falls in Jose Vasconcelos. He is in Montreal on a financial mission for Carranza. It was said he would proceed to the Ontario border town within a few days. If that plan were carried out, it was believed here today the South American envoys and the Huerta and United States missions might have progressed far enough with proposals for settling Mexico's international difficulties to take up the republic's domestic affairs. In that equation, it is recognized, Carranza and his northern faction must be considered as big figures.

Constitutionalist officials today jubilantly predicted that there remained only one more battle to bring their long campaign to an end. They believe the final desperate struggle of the revolution, the place of Huerta's last stand will be at Queretaro. That place, they pointed out, is more adaptable for fortifications than San Luis Potosi where a federal garrison still remains.

Last night's announcement that the dispatch to Niagara Falls of a constitutionalist representative, presumably Jose Vasconcelos, had actually been decided upon was a fore-runner of today's developments. It was made apparently before General Carranza had been heard from but after overtures to constitutionalist leaders had been made.

WILL TRY CONCLUSIONS AT INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY, MAY 30.

After having buried the hatchet for a couple of seasons, Caleb Bragg shown above at the wheel of his Mercer, and Harry Grant, depicted in the insert, are after each other again. A chance remark by the latter that he did not think much of the former as a contender in the next Indianapolis five-hundred mile race started a resumption of hostilities. May 30, next, therefore, will have an interest to those two aside from the fact that they will be engaged in the greatest cylinder battle of the century. No matter if he goes down in ultimate defeat, either will be satisfied if he noses out the other. Grant, during the race, will handle an English Sunbeam, Bragg sticking to the Mercer.

dion for literary talent that we did not have."

In the last five minutes of his testimony Mr. Mellen was led by chief counsel Folks's questions to discuss his negotiations with Grand Trunk Railway as a result of which Mr. Mellen was indicted by a federal grand jury in New York for alleged conspiracy.

"Did Mr. Morgan have anything to do with the Grand Trunk negotiations for this exchange?" asked Mr. Folks.

He took a very active part. I did not know Mr. Morgan knew anything about the matter until he came to my office while Mr. Smithers and Mr. Chamberlain were there. He told them what they could do to bring about peace between the New Haven and Grand Trunk interests.

"He left the office and I told Smithers and Chamberlain that I felt that the worst punishment they could get would be to extend the Grand Trunk into New England. I then told them that if they thought the amount of business justified, we could discuss the matter reaching an agreement regarding the exchange of business along the Connecticut river. I was asked to put my views in writing and within a week after the federal grand jury began proceedings against me."

What about the letter you wrote to the district attorney at New York?" asked Mr. Folks.

"I wrote that letter to shield Mr. Morgan. It was gone over by Leary."

Mr. Mellen concluded his testimony by telling an interview shortly afterward with J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., in which he told him of what he had done.

Young Mr. Morgan," said Mr. Mellen, was "deeply affected and turned his back on me and looked out of the window for a few minutes, in order to get time to overcome his emotions. He said that his father was in bad health and could never have stood an indictment at that time."

At the conclusion of Mr. Mellen's testimony, Mr. Folks asked for an adjournment until next Tuesday. He said he desired to retain Mr. Mellen within call but at present had concluded with him. It was his purpose, he said, to have other witnesses, perhaps members of the board of directors of the New Haven, ready to proceed with testimony when the hearing was resumed.

"Is Mr. Rockefeller able to appear on the stand?" asked Commissioner McChord.

Mr. Mellen who had not left the stand, said "Mr. Rockefeller, as I understand it, is unable to speak above a whisper. It would be impossible for him to go through an experience as hard as I had during the last four days."

"Did he not attend the meeting of the New Haven board yesterday?" inquired Commissioner McChord.

"I understand from the newspapers that he was present at the meeting," said Mr. Mellen.

"Well," said Mr. McChord, "if he were here could he not whisper his responses to the stenographer?"

"I am convinced that he will be unable physically to undergo any examination of this kind," said Mr. Mellen.

"Could he not write his answers?" asked Mr. Mellen. "I don't think it would be physically possible for him to write answers."

Mr. Folks said that he had received from physicians certificates that not only Mr. Rockefeller but also Mr. Miller and Mr. Morehouse were too ill to appear as witnesses. He indicated, however, that directors Lewis Cass Leary and George F. Baker, were prepared to go on the stand.

THREE LADS ORDERED TO LANCASTER

The child problem presented itself again in Juvenile court Friday, when Judge Hunter ordered three boys taken to the industrial school at Lancaster. Two of the boys are "runners" and the third is making his first trip there.

Jimmy Dunlap, who has made four appearances before Judge Hunter in Juvenile court in the past few weeks, was one of the trio. It developed Friday that Jimmy succeeded in escaping Probation Officer Dwyer Tuesday in Columbus while enroute to Lancaster. The lad, who is fourteen years old, and looked upon by the court as a hard case to handle, got back to Newark by some ruse which he refused to divulge.

On each of Officer Dwyer's visits to the Dunlap home, Jimmy saw the officer first. Tuesday Dwyer determined to try a new trick and this time it worked. He went to the Dunlap home long after Jimmy's bedtime, found the boy at home and lodged him in the county jail until Friday morning.

Jimmy is charged with several instances of incorrigibility and truancy. Harry Vickers thirteen years old, a persistent truant, violated the warnings of Judge Hunter and was also committed to Lancaster. This is his first trip to the institution.

Harmon Garner, thirteen, under parole from the Lancaster school, was ordered taken back.

Probation Officer Dwyer, assisted by Court Bailiff Emswiler, took the trio Friday forenoon in an automobile.

The Garner lad was charged with forgery of a note for $5. The sum was made good and the boy was released. Later he was alleged to have stolen some tools from oil men near Perryton, and on this latter charge Judge Hunter last Saturday ordered him placed in the county children's home, with the understanding that any further mischief on his part would mean a return to Lancaster.

Thursday it was discovered that young Garner had appropriated several suits of clothing at the home and had incited several other boys of about his age to plan an escape from the institution. Superintendent Orr reported the matter and the boy was turned over to Juvenile court.

Sitting in the court room Friday, the Garner lad listened to the questioning of the Vickers boy by the Probation Officer Harry Miller. When young Vickers admitted he used tobacco, the Garner boy shook his head in horror, emitting a half audible "tut-tut." When asked the cause of his perturbation, he remarked that Vickers was "too young to use tobacco."

The Vickers lad took the commitment calmly, but was unable to check the tears. Garner's attitude was that of injured innocence, while young Jimmy Dunlap, who has been before the court so frequently of late, looked on the proceedings with apparently the most disconcerted mien, gazing curiously here and there and tapping his foot idly on the floor.

DID THE WORK.

Grew Strong on Right Food.

You can't grow strong by merely exercising. You must have food—the kind you can digest and assimilate.

Unless the food you eat is digested it adds to the burden the digestive organs have naturally to carry. This often means a nervous breakdown.

"About a year ago," writes a Mass. lady, "I had quite a serious nervous breakdown caused, as I believed by overwork and worry. I also suffered untold misery from dyspepsia."

"First I gave up my position, then I tried to find a remedy for my troubles, something to rest my tired stomach and build up my worn-out nerves and brain."

"I tried one kind of medicine after another, but nothing seemed to help me."

"Finally a friend suggested change of food and recommended Grape-Nuts. With little or no faith in it, I tried a package. That was eight months ago and I have never been without it since."

"Grape-Nuts did the work. It helped me grow strong and well. Grape-Nuts put new life into me, built up my whole system and made another woman of me!"

MUST BE REPAIRED OR BUILT OVER ENTIRE CITY ACCORDING TO COUNCIL'S ACTION.

If Property Owners Do Not Attend To It, City Will Do Work At Their Expense.

The city-wide improvement of sidewalks will be an actuality by the end of this summer. Some six weeks or more ago a blanket sidewalk resolution passed the council in response to petitions from all over the city, which declared it necessary for the improvement of sidewalks on a great number of streets, and Clerk of Council Woodward is still busy serving notices upon property owners whose sidewalks need attention, under the resolution.

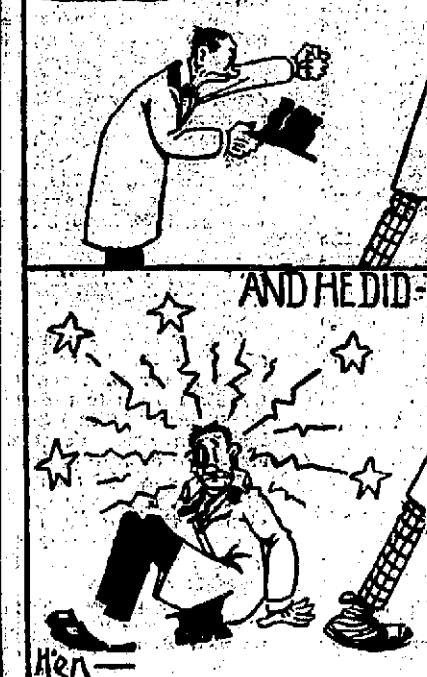

The West Locust street association that has for its purpose the beautifying of that street was among the petitioners and today notices are being served upon these property owners from Fifth street to Thirteenth street.

The sidewalks in Newark must be put in shape and the city authorities are determined that the council's action shall be enforced. If property owners do not do it in response to notices, the public service department will order it done and the cost will be assessed back upon the real estate. It is much cheaper for owners to do this work because if the city does it, the cost will be increased by the legal advertising and other costs.

At any rate it will be done, and those receiving notices may govern themselves as they see fit.

Madame Iso'hell Advises Thin Women to Look to Their Digestion

LESSON XIII—PART I. Excessive Thinness.

Excessive thinness is more difficult to treat, as a rule, than obesity, for it is generally the result of mal-assimilation, which is really a disease. Food reduction will not cure it, and if cases of obesity, but to increase food consumption is by no means an efficacious method of treating thinness. Mal-assimilation may result from many causes; when such cases are obstinate and accompanied by weakness a diagnosis should be made by such physician and a regime laid out and followed.

There are other cases where apparently healthy women fall below the average in weight; in such cases the cause can often be found and treated.

Nerves and Worry.

We must remember that there is nothing more dependent on the mental attitude than the process of digestion. Nervousness, worry, over-excitement have a direct and quick reflection in the digestive fluids. The body is not a machine governed only by physical laws; if it were so, all people would profit by the same regime, which we know is not the case.

Starch and Sugar.

Most regimes outlined for flesh accumulation lay stress on increasing the consumption of starch and sugar. As has been already pointed out, these are flesh-producing foods, but, unfortunately, they are not always easily digested, and in such cases do more harm than good. Most thin people have a delicate or capricious digestive apparatus and to overburden this would probably bring about dyspepsia, which would result in decreased rather than increased flesh.

The first step in overcoming thinness, therefore, is to overcome difficulties in digestion. If such is the result of nervousness, overcome this; if it comes from overwork, rest and sleep more; if from improper food, find out just what kind of food best agrees with you and limit your diet to this. In the next article I will give a regime that has proven very successful with pupils suffering from undue thinness.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE ON LAST YEAR'S WALL PAPERS

We have a wall paper show that was never shown before the Spring of 1914.

It is a new department, and there's consequently not a thing in it held over from last year.

We didn't put in for any special class of people. We put it in for all the people of Newark.

You can get everything in wall paper here, from the finest imported papers to the inexpensive kinds and you'll get full money's worth in each case.

The diversity of patterns is endless. The range of price is from the lowest to the highest.

Inasmuch as it is a new department, you can rest assured that we have done our utmost to make it a place of big values.

Won't you come in and let us help you select the papers you need?

Where Was the Machine?

State Treasurer John Brennan has reported that a total of $1,016,587.60 of interest has been earned on deposits of state money since the year 1909 when Democrats took control of the treasury department, stopped the stealing of funds by Republican treasurers to build Columbus skyscrapers and began to deposit the same on interest to the credit of the state.

Here are Treasurer Brennan's figures:
Total, 1909	$155,384.31
Total, 1910	$160,933.80
Total, 1911	$138,905.02
Total, 1912	$178,648.72
Total, 1913	$211,500.29
Total five years ending Nov. 15, 1913	$845,372.14
Quarter ending Feb. 1, 1914	$65,526.35
Quarter ending May 1, 1914	76,597.53
Commercial Nat. Bank, Cols. Dec. 18, 1913	15,000.00
Commercial Nat. Bank, Cols. April 1, 1914	10,000.00
First Nat. Bank, Cleveland, Feb. 13, 1914	4,109.58

Total first half year, 1914 $171,215.46
Total General Revenue $1,016,587.60
In view of the trial of graft and corruption which a political machine leaves when it handles large sums of money, this paper desires to ask: Where was the terrible machine which our Republican brethren prate about when the millions in the state treasury were handled so advantageously by Treasurer Brennan and his predecessor Staley D. Creamer, both Democratic state officials?

The army officers have started schools at Mexico, but Huerta still continues to play hooky.

"Love me, love my dog" may be all right, but most people draw the line at "Love me, love my chickens!"

In Paris soft collars are fashionable for men and how pretty they will look when they get to wearing Dutch necks.

The Boy Scouts are drilling in many places with wooden guns, but so far Huerta has not claimed that this violates the armistice.

There is dissatisfaction among the tourists at Washington that President Wilson is too busy with the Mexican mess to shake hands all round.

It seems very careless of the Mexican warriors to go on fighting while Richard Harding Davis was locked up and unable to write up the battles.

It is urged that aviators should be forbidden to fly over cities. The aviators, however, will get no satisfaction in risking their necks unless some one sees it.

Senator Root says that former Charge O'Shaughnessy is the best "mixer" he ever knew. That did not help him much at Mexico City, as Huerta took his straight.

Although Johns Hopkins university may decide that woman has as great a mentality as man, some people won't believe it until she learns to tell the batsman from the umpire.

Pie!! Pie!! Pie!!

Snow-Mellow

Makes the Pie For Me

Home made pies made with Snow-Mellow are better than any pies you ever tasted. Try this recipe today and be delighted and convinced. Beat up one tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow according to directions in the package to a fluffy pie meringue. Then add one cup grated coconut and two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice. Fill this into pie-paste forms (previously baked) and brown gently in a quick oven. This makes a pie for a king. Every 25c box of Snow-Mellow makes seven desserts for four to six people. Our book of original recipes shows 23 ways in which it can be used. Your grocer has Snow-Mellow, price 25c, sent by mail on receipt of price, with book and patent beater, free, if you send your grocer's name to Frank & Houten, Sole Agts., 623 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

Uncle Walt

Lemonade.

It is a helpful, soothing drink, when flies are bad and days are hot; and whether it is white or pink it always seems to hit the spot. I drink it with the lovely dainties where drugstore clerks take in the kake; I drink it at the baseball games, at home I sip it by the pool. Of all soft drinks it is the best, as every learned physician knows: it always soothes my savage breast, and gives my warlike soul repose. It takes the fungus from my tongue, and kills the toadstools in my throat; and I feel brave and gay and young, when all my innards are afloat; when they're afloat in lemonade, my head is clear, my nerve is strong; I face my duties unafraid, and put up with the whole day long. And when the cool, gray mornings break, I do not see, beside my bed, a bunch of hydra-headed snakes with pea-green antlers on each head. I rise refreshed, so full of vim, and of aggressive strength so full, that when I've sung my morning hymn, I go out doors and whip a bull.

On Second Thought

Pity may also be described as the feeling entertained by the woman who keeps a girl for the one who does her own housework.

Eph Wiley expects to live many years yet, but he already has written down his dying wish. It is that the undertaker, at the conclusion of the services over his body, shall not unscrew the lid of the coffin and say "All those who wish to view the remains will now step forward."

So long as interfering in other people's affairs is the surest way of being elected to office, the world will be full of meddlers.

Every farmer is interested in literature to the extent of owning a book which tells him how to doctor a sick horse.

If a man doesn't have to get down to work early he likes to do it.

The fact that it resembles its father is, generally speaking, no particular compliment to a baby.

Buck Kilby says a forehanded man is one who starts his search for the corkscrew before his company arrives.

"He is the sort of fellow," said Eph Wiley yesterday in describing his new son-in-law, "who presents the appearance of one whose hair has just been combed by a barber."

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who played casino?

The Arms of Glasgow.

The explanation of the coat of arms of Glasgow is curious. On it are an oak tree with a bell hanging on one of its branches, a bird at the top of the tree and a salmon, with a ring in its mouth, at the base.

St. Kentigern, in the seventh century, took up his abode on the site of the present city of Glasgow. Upon an oak in the clearing he hung a bell to summon the savages to worship, hence the oak and bell.

A queen, having formed an attachment to a soldier, gave him a precious ring, which the king had given her. The king, aware of the fact, stole upon the soldier in sleep, abstracted the ring, threw it into the Clyde and then asked the queen for it. The queen, in alarm, applied to St. Kentigern, who went to the Clyde, caught a salmon with the ring in its mouth, handed it to the queen and was thus the means of restoring peace to the royal couple.—Pearson's Weekly.

Man's Possibilities.
Man is the crowning work of God on earth; but, though so nobly endowed, we must not forget that we are the lofty children of a race whose lowest forms lie prostrate within the water, having no higher aspiration than the desire for food. And we cannot understand the possible degradation and moral wretchedness of man without knowing that his physical nature is rooted in all the material characteristics that belong to his type and link him even with the fish. The moral and intellectual gifts that distinguish him from them are his to use or abuse. He may, if he will, abjure his better nature and be veritable more than man. He may sink as low as the lowest of his type, or he may rise to a spiritual height that will make that which distinguishes him from the rest far more the controlling element of his being than that which unites him with them.—Agassiz.

Valor.

Blowhard sat discoursing upon valor to his ragged cronies.

"I," he blew, "fear no man who lives."

"But thou fearest me," rasped a midgit wizen. "Home with thee!"

Blue gilled, he followed his wife, the crowd loud jeering.

Within she turned to those who soon filled the doorway.

"Mark ye," she blew, "that it is I who fear no man!"

"But thou fearest me," squeaked the little mouse in the count.

With a shriek of mad terror Dame Blowhard leaped chairward.

Whereupon the merry beggars held their aching sides.—Lippincott's.

Making Montenegro.
The peasants of Montenegro have a quaint legend to account for the rock strewn appearance of their country. They will tell you that when the world was being created the Creator and the angel of creation were flying over chaos. The angel was carrying in a sack the rocks which were to make the mountains of the world when suddenly the sack burst. The rocks fell down, and that is Montenegro!

Not Strange at All.

Mrs. Wheeler's family and the new baby were being freely discussed by their next door neighbor.

"Isn't it strange they didn't name the baby after her rich uncle?" said one.

"No; he looked at it and said he'd give them $15,000 not to."—Lippincott's.

MISS MINDEL, as president of a reform league, was the target for the trouble of many folk who turned to her for assistance and advice. One day she received a letter containing a list of names belonging to the Union Realty company for which very unjust rentals were also charged. She took the matter up, writing very sharply to James Boliver, president of the company. Mr. Boliver ran his business on the comfortable theory that every man had his price, and when he felt any one was going to make things unpleasant for him he admitted himself willing to pay that price. He applied this theory to Miss Mindel and wrote to her very tactfully, asking her to call.

Miss Mindel was a bit skeptical of the letter, though she did not fully grasp its import, and decided to confide her difficulties to the newspaper before she got into deep water. She happened to drift into the office of The Comet first of all, almost into the arms of Miss Dolly Desmond, to whom she immediately told her story. Miss Desmond was very alert to the situation and proposed that she go, impersonating Miss Mindel, and see what would happen. Miss Mindel agreed warmly with this plan, and accordingly Dolly presented herself at Mr. Boliver's office. She found him the same old sycophant as she discovered her admirably personified, and they speedily came to a deal in which a check for $5,000 changed hands. Dolly wrote a receipt for the check on the typewriter, making a carbon copy, which she snuck away with her.

Elated with her success, Dolly was on the point of departing when she met Mr. Brown, her former employer and a director of the company. Mr. Brown recognized her instantly and there was nothing for her to do but to make a sudden and daring exit down the fire escape. By so doing she reached her new paper safely with her incriminating story, and a mighty good looking scoop it made on the front page. As Dolly read it she chuckled at the way she had put one over that time.

Tearing Cards.
At the Hatterophile club in Paris not long ago a man achieved a record by tearing a pack of playing cards in one pull—time, 2 minutes 32 seconds. The events in this card tearing contest were:
Tearing the greatest possible number of cards tied together top and bottom—time allowed, three minutes; tearing a pack of eighty cards in the quickest possible time; tearing the greatest possible number of cards in four.
This is a form of "sport" wherein many Frenchmen specialize. The men who enter the contests are not necessarily powerful, but they possess enormous strength in their fingers, a strength that is further developed by careful training.—Washington Star.

A Nice Point.
None of the maids of honor to the queen of England is allowed to keep a diary. A young lady who did not know of this rule was congratulating a newly made maid of honor.
"And what interesting things you'll be able to write in your diary!" she said.
"But it is an understood thing that a maid of honor does not keep a diary," the other pointed out.
"But I think I should keep one—all the same," said her friend.
"Then you wouldn't be a maid of honor!" was the retort.—London Answers.

How a Beetle Makes Love.
The deathwatch is always destructive. In its earlier stages of life it eats up books and furniture, and when it reaches maturity the damage it does is greater still, though not so costly. In length about a quarter of an inch and of a gray color, it does not seem to be a very terrifying creature; but it has a faceted little habit of butting its armor plated head against anything hard it may meet with, such as wood or plaster, thus giving rise to a ticking sound which might, by a good stretch of the imagination, be thought to sound like the ticking of a watch. The poor little beetle, when he causes the ticking, is only serenading his sweetheart. He can play no musical instrument to please her, and so to prove his devotion, he butts his head against the wall.—Family Doctor.

Flying Fish.
Interesting are the habits of the flying fish, that queer denizen of the sea found principally in the region of the trade winds. "Does it rise from the sea like a bird?" you ask. No. It shoots out of the waves like an arrow and with outspreading wings sails on the wind in graceful curves, rising sometimes, one might say, to the height of fifteen feet, but not often so high, and then, lowering, it again touches the crest of a wave and renews its flight. This operation may be repeated till it covers a distance, say, of 500 yards in the case of the stoutest on the wing, though very often not half that distance is covered. A ship sailing through the trade winds will often be visited on dark nights by flying fish, which hit the sails or rigging and fall on deck, where, of course, they soon give up life.—St. Nicholas.

to insure his own safety, thoughtfully conceals his identity behind the name of his most recent acquisition as a son-in-law.
He has an awfully good time at this party with the pretty girl, and he escapes home without serious injury from the outraged chef. Next day he feels the effects of the champagne and undue gaiety, and to avoid unpleasant home questionings decides to take a short trip. As soon as he departs his women folk hasten off to visit the married daughter.
Arriving at the station, Fletcher discovers there is no train for several hours, so he returns home and stumbles into a party conducted by Dora, the maid, at which his chamber of the previous evening is chief figure. This chamber, it seems, has come to apply for the position of maid in the family, and she and Dora are old friends. Dora enjoys the situation she sees her grouchy employer is in, and insists he must play up to Marie's lead, continuing to impersonate his esteemed son-in-law in order to preserve his reputation. The two young women insist that he accompany them to a fancy dress ball and see that he arranges himself in a fluffy ballet creation, crowning his ancient locks with a richly marcelled wig. The jealous Julian, the chief of the party also.
Complications followed when the son and would-be-son arrive, swooped upon after by the wife and daughters. To avoid a scene, Mr. Fletcher slips out on the fire escape, where he clings as long as he can endure the cold of the pelting rain. Excitement seizes them until, clever Dora succeeds in straightening out the situation without incriminating her employer, whom she now has thoroughly under her thumb. It is a clever farce, thoroughly well acted.

"Diplomatic Flo."
—Victor.
This is among the cleverest and speediest comedy dramas being shown, with some exceptional good acting by the charming Miss Florence Lawrence. Flo has to do the diplomatic atmosphere from her association with her father, who is a member of Uncle Sam's secret service, and her sweetheart, who is one of her father's men. These gentlemen are talk business they find her much in the way, for they think she cannot understand the big problems they have to face.
How she turns the tables on them, and cures the biggest scoop in the most thoroughgoing fashion, is the theme of this film. They are on the trail of a certain Central American grandee, who is suspected of conducting filibustering expeditions, and they have their clumsy detectives shadow him nearly every moment. Flo conducts a neat little detecting stunt of her own, which is quite hair-raisingly exciting for the onlooker, secures the evidence, and then, with remarkable heroism, sends the information anonymously to her sweetheart.
He follows it up, finds the actual articles of warfare ready for shipment, arrests the South American, and then tells the girl what a wonderful thing he has done. She doesn't care, though, for he has his arms around her, and tells of his achievement.

"Never Again."
—Vitaphone.
Sidney Drew's name in a picture production is adequate insurance of its irresistibly humorous quality, for that comedian makes as much historic return to the camera as he would on the tangible stage, and he always appears in scenarios with some point other than the exquisite situation of falling down or being fallen all over.
In his play today he impersonates Rufus Fletcher, a family grouch with a distinct aversion to the specimens of masculinity elected by his daughters as husbands and an ability to make everyone—except the audience—miserable on that account.
Leaving his family in tears and trembles, the old hypocrite betakes himself jauntily to a public hall he has been advertised in the paper and there becomes enamored of a lovely girl, growing, as a result, the passionate jealousy of her very passionate sweetheart, who, in the ordinary grind of daily life, is a chef, and so entitled to a healthy temperance. Mr. Fletcher, in order

Society

A pretty afternoon party was given by Miss Camille Windle on Thursday out of honor to her guest, Miss Mikenhouse of Dayton, who has been a classmate of Miss Windle at the National Domestic Arts and Science College at Washington, D. A party from the Trinity Episcopal church is picnicking at Buckeye Lake park today.

Mrs. Daniel Altshool entertained with a luncheon of pretty appointments at the Country club on Thursday afternoon. The luncheon table was centered with a floral basket and Mrs. Altshool's guests were Mrs. Fred Black and her guest, Miss Hinkley of Rome, N. Y., Mrs. Charles Stinson, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mrs. E. C. Wright, Mrs. W. A. Dorey, Mrs. J. S. Jones of Granville, Mrs. Blanca Dennis, Mrs. James Fitzgibbon, and Mrs. Joseph Sprague.

The suburban home of Mrs. Carl Weant, east of the city, formed a pretty setting for a delightful afternoon party on Thursday, when Mrs. Weant entertained out of compliment to her guest, Miss Helen Fickhardt of Circleville. Spring flowers varied as to color and kind, were massed with a background of rich foliage. The fragrance of valley lilies, purple lilies and spirea intermingled, and beautiful baskets were filled with these flowers.

Tables had been arranged for bridge and the souvenirs were awarded to Miss Nelle Jones and Mrs. H. L. Maddocks.

Mrs. Weant's guests were Mesdames Walter Metz, Malcolm Baker, Clarence Heisey, Harry Baker, Edward Kibler jr., Donald Ferguson, Clay Van Voorhis, Robbins Hunter, Frank Webb, H. L. Maddocks, Fred Mosteller, J. Howard Jones, and Misses Ann Sprague, Nelle Jones, Bertha Latimer, Frances Collins, Grace Fulton, Hazel Altshool and Frances Priest. The out of town guests were Miss Fickhardt of Circleville and Mrs. Fulton Van Voorhis of Granville.

On Thursday evening Miss Hazel Altshool entertained with four tables of bridge, honoring the guest of Miss Mary Sherwood Wright, Miss Louise Wilby of Cincinnati. Varied spring flowers adorned the rooms and the game concluded with the favors being awarded to Miss Mary Sherwood Wright and Mr. Walter Bainbridge.

The guests were Misses Mary Sherwood Wright, Annette Besuden, Frances Collins, Bertha Latimer, Grace Fulton, Helen Beard, Ann Sprague and Miss Wilby of Cincinnati. Messrs. Leon Shinn, Walter Bainbridge, Frederick Wright, Walter Browne, Ewing Webb, Howard Upson, George Upson and Arthur Schauweker.

Mrs. Carl Swisher, Miss Leontine Moore and Miss Ganava Smith of Columbus entertained with a picnic at the Country club on Thursday afternoon honoring Miss Mary Follett. A delicious dinner was served at six o'clock to the following guests: Misses Louise Jones, Rhea Ingler, Ruth Lindor, Eleanor Beecher, Catherine Sedgwick, Mrs. Fred Warner and Miss Follett.

On Thursday evening a delightful little miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Mary Follett by Miss Catherine Sedgwick at her home in Hudson avenue.

A number of events honoring Miss Mary Follett have been announced. On Monday Mrs. Lee Moore will entertain with a luncheon at her home in Kibler avenue. On Thursday afternoon Miss Lenora Phillips will honor Miss Follett and on Tuesday evening Miss Follett and on Tuesday evening Mrs. Follett and on Tuesday evening Mrs. Follett and on Tuesday evening Mrs. Follett.

The London Street Embroidery club was entertained on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lake. The hours were informally devoted to needlework and a dainty refectory was served. The club will be entertained by Mrs. Walter Mowery on June 5.

Mrs. Mary Long entertained at her home in Buckingham street on Thursday evening with a dinner party of delightful appointments. The hour was six o'clock and for the decorations the color scheme of pink and white was selected. The table was centered with willow basket filled with sweet peas, and encircling the floral basket were miniature brides bearing twin hearts in pink announcing the engagement of Miss Florence Louise Long and Mr. Justin Keeley, with the wedding date of June 24. Pink ribbons extended from each place card to the tiny brides. The Long home was massed with spring flowers and foliage, and the color scheme of pink and white was extended through the various rooms. The guests were: Misses Amy Kuster, Dorothy Kuster, Mary Ganev, Nelle Gorman, Anna McCarthy, Dorothy Connors, Julia Sells, Ester Banton, Mary Keeley. The out of town guests were Misses Mary Hammer and Helen Cavanaugh of Zanesville and Misses Marie Driscoll and Helen Joyce of Columbus.

Mrs. Long was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Keeley and Miss Anna Soder.

Miss Long was graduated from the St. Nicholas academy in Zanesville and has been employed as stenographer for Kibler & Kibler. Mr. Keeley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Keeley and is engaged in business with his father.

Miss Minnie Brown will be the honor guest at a number of events planned for her honor before her marriage to Mr. Oliver Heck of Pittsburgh on Monday evening Miss Besse Glenn will entertain for Miss Brown and Tuesday evening at her home in Hudson avenue Miss Clara McDonald will honor the bride to be. An evening party will be given on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Morris Kent in Rugg avenue. On Saturday evening Miss Florence Hart will entertain at her home in Buena Vista street.

St. Luke's Commandery, No. 34, Knights Templar, entertained on Ascension Thursday at their club rooms in West Main street. A large curtain had been erected and stereoscopic views were shown. These embraced the life of Christ from his birth to the time of the ascension. During the showing of the slides shown was given by Mr. Frank Bogg.

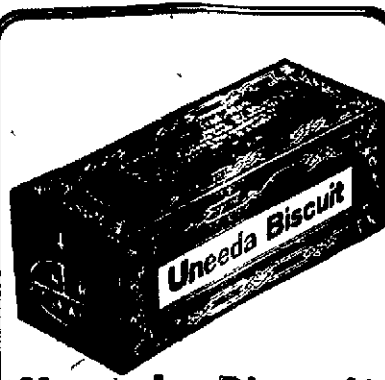

At the conclusion of the views an informal reception was held in the club rooms and punch and wafers were served. The ladies were guests of the commandery.

Miss Mary Larason entertained with a pretty evening party on Thursday at her home in Hudson avenue when she complimented Miss Minnie Brown. The hours were informally spent and the bride to be was showered with a number of miscellaneous gifts. Luncheon was served in the dining room where the color effect was in yellow and white. The table was centered with a basket filled with white sweet peas and carnations and the favors were miniature baskets in yellow filled with yellow and white confections. Hearts and Cupids marked the appointments in the luncheon. Miss Larason's guests numbered eighteen.

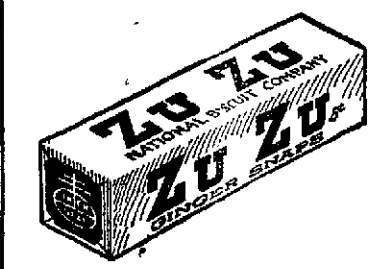

Gladys Walker, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Walker of 695 Granville street, was taken to the City Hospital Friday morning in the Bazler & Bradley ambulance, suffering with an attack of appendicitis which came upon her Tuesday. Mrs. H. J. Davis and J. P. Latimer decided that an immediate operation was best, and it was performed. Mrs. Anna Gorman is seriously ill at her home in German street. John Kennedy, employed at the Wehrle company, is absent from his duties owing to illness.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Joyful Victims of Matrimony.

"I heard a bishop say something today that is just in line with what I have been telling you," said the Bachelor Girl.

The Bachelor maintained a non-committal silence. "He said," went on the Bachelor Girl, "seeing the Bachelor wouldn't comment upon the profound wisdom of her remarks since they coincided with a bishop's, 'that the moment one weds, one becomes a candidate for sacrifice.' She looked at the Bachelor rather gleefully. 'There seems to be a lot of joyful victims,' observed the Bachelor. 'Besides, sacrifice isn't such a lamentable thing, is it?'"

"If the other fellow does it, it isn't," replied the Bachelor Girl, cynically. "But I notice most of us are not in a grand rush voluntarily to sacrifice our desires. That is why I like what the bishop said. He knew that was what was ahead of the persons who married and he warned them. Some never see this for themselves, or think it tiresome advice, and so plunge to their destruction. But coming from a man of the bishop's standing, it will make the rash and unthinking pause."

"But as I said before," replied the Bachelor calmly, "sacrifice is not a thing to be dreaded. The more of self that goes and the more of love that comes, the better. And that is what sacrifice really is. Love comes and crowds self out. And though to the world, looking on, these may seem to be a sacrifice, to the party interested there is only joy. Do you suppose the husband who makes sacrifices, so-called, for his wife—I don't mean merely humoring whims, but doing things that really contribute to her happiness—looks upon what he does as sacrifice? I don't think such an idea ever entered his head. He is simply happy to be able to make her happy. And don't you suppose he is a finer man than if he simply considered and catered to his own wishes? Seems to me if there were nothing else to recommend marriage, this statement of the bishop's would be one of its big assets."

"I don't think it would be a drawing card for the mob," observed the Bachelor Girl. "Sacrifice as a steady performance I don't think appeals to the majority."

"But when they see it isn't really sacrifice but service," remonstrated the Bachelor, "it seems to me the thoughtful and the fine-souled would not side-step it. The more of the little, egotistical self that goes, the more will we grow into the fine stature of manhood that is our inheritance. And when we see that this process of growing comes from a very happy and joyful manner of living, what more can mortals ask?"

"I am afraid one would have to be very fine-souled to see the whole of marriage that way," sighed the Bachelor Girl. "If I had to sacrifice a lot, I am afraid that instead of being conscious of my development and being joyful over service, I would be very irritable and miserable at having to give up cherished ideas."

"I don't believe it," said the Bachelor. "Every true woman is happy in loving and in ministering to those she loves."

Answer Filed.
In an answer filed in common pleas court Friday by attorneys Fitzgibbon & Montgomery, for the Ohio Electric Railway company, defendant in a suit instituted by Virginia C. Smith, the plaintiff is charged with being responsible for his own injuries.

Smith sued the company for damages in the sum of $5,080, which he says he suffered when a Newark-Zanesville car struck a farm wagon in which he was riding, at a crossing, in February.

Divorce Petition.
Mrs. Catherine Harter, wife of Police Patrolman Andrew Harter, filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Friday, and on her petition, presented by Attorney Smythe & Smythe, Judge Fulton granted a temporary injunction restraining the city and the Newark Trust company from paying him money said to be held in his name. Mrs. Harter says her husband earns $75 per month and owns two houses and lots in Newark. She says they were married in July 1896. They have no children.

Where Was the Machine?

State Treasurer John Brennan has reported that a total of $1,016,587.60 of interest has been earned on deposits of state money since the year 1909 when Democrats took control of the treasury department, stopped the stealing of funds by Republican treasurers to build Columbus skyscrapers and began to deposit the same on interest to the credit of the state.

Here are Treasurer Brennan's figures:

Total, 1909	$155,384.31
Total, 1910	$160,933.80
Total, 1911	$138,905.02
Total, 1912	$178,648.72
Total, 1913	$211,500.29

Total five years ending Nov. 15, 1913	$845,372.14
---------------------------------------	--------------

Quarter ending Feb. 1, 1914	$65,526.35
Quarter ending May 1, 1914	76,597.53
Commercial Nat. Bank, Cols. Dec. 18, 1913	15,000.00
Commercial Nat. Bank, Cols. April 1, 1914	10,000.00
First Nat. Bank, Cleveland, Feb. 13, 1914	4,109.58

Total first half year, 1914	$171,215.46
Total General Revenue	$1,016,587.60

In view of the trial of graft and corruption which a political machine leaves when it handles large sums of money, this paper desires to ask: Where was the terrible machine which our Republican brethren prate about when the millions in the state treasury were handled so advantageously by Treasurer Brennan and his predecessor Staley D. Creamer, both Democratic state officials?

The army officers have started schools at Mexico, but Huerta still continues to play hooky.

"Love me, love my dog" may be all right, but most people draw the line at "Love me, love my chickens!"

In Paris soft collars are fashionable for men and how pretty they will look when they get to wearing Dutch necks.

The Boy Scouts are drilling in many places with wooden guns, but so far Huerta has not claimed that this violates the armistice.

There is dissatisfaction among the tourists at Washington that President Wilson is too busy with the Mexican mess to shake hands all round.

It seems very careless of the Mexican warriors to go on fighting while Richard Harding Davis was locked up and unable to write up the battles.

It is urged that aviators should be forbidden to fly over cities. The aviators, however, will get no satisfaction in risking their necks unless some one sees it.

Senator Root says that former Charge O'Shaughnessy is the best "mixer" he ever knew. That did not help him much at Mexico City, as Huerta took his straight.

Pie!! Pie!! Pie!!

Snow Mellow

Makes the Pie For Me

Home made pies made with Snow-Mellow are better than any pies you ever tasted. Try this recipe today and be delighted and convinced. Beat up one tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow on a tablespoonful of sugar, according to directions in the package, to a fluffy pie meringue. Then add one cup grated coconut and two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice. Fill this into pie-paste forms (previously baked) and brown gently in a quick oven. This makes a pie fit for a king. Every 25c box of Snow-Mellow makes seven desserts for four to six people. Our book of original recipes shows 28 ways in which it can be used. Your grocer has Snow-Mellow, price 25c, or sent by mail on receipt of price, with book and patent boiler, free, if you send your grocer's name to Frank & Housen, Sale Agts., 623 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

Uncle Walt

Lemonade.

It is a helpful, soothing drink, when flies are bad and days are hot; and whether it is white or pink it always seems to hit the spot. I drink it with the lovely dames where drugstore clerks take in the kale. I drink it at the baseball games, at home I sip it by the nail. Of all soft drinks it is the best, as every learned physician knows; it always soothes my savage breast, and gives my warlike soul repose. It takes the fungus from my tongue, and kills the toadstools in my throat; and I feel brave and gay and young, when all my innards are afloat, when they're afloat in lemonade, my head is clear, my nerve is strong; I face my duties unafraid, and put up with the whole day long. And when the cool, gray morning breaks, I do not see, beside my bed, a bunch of hydra-headed snakes with pea-green antlers on each head, I rise refreshed, so full of vim, and of aggressive strength, so full, that when I've sung my morning hymn, I go out doors and whip a bull.

On Second Thought

Pity may also be described as the feeling entertained by the woman who keeps a girl for the one who does her own housework.

Eph Wiley expects to live many years yet, but he already has written down his dying wish. It is that the undertaker, at the conclusion of the services over his body, shall not unscrew the lid of the coffin and say "All those who wish to view the remains will now step forward."

So long as interfering in other people's affairs is the surest way of being elected to office, the world will be full of meddlers.

Every farmer is interested in literature to the extent of owning a book which tells him how to doctor a sick horse.

If a man doesn't have to get down to work early he likes to do it.

The fact that it resembles his father is, generally speaking, no particular compliment to a baby.

Buck Kilby says a forehand man is one who starts his search for the corker before his company arrives.

"He is the sort of fellow," said Eph Wiley yesterday in describing his new son-in-law, "who presents the appearance of one whose hair has just been combed by a barber."

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who played casino?

Sillicus—"The beauty of a woman is in her mind, not in her face." Cynicus—"Well, it ought to be. It takes her so much longer to make up her mind than her face."

The Arms of Glasgow.

The explanation of the coat of arms of Glasgow is curious. On it are an oak tree with a bell hanging on one of its branches, a bird at the top of the tree and a salmon, with a ring in its mouth, at the base.

St. Kentigern, in the seventh century, took up his abode on the site of the present city of Glasgow. Upon an oak in the clearing he hung a bell to summon the savages to worship, hence the oak and bell.

A queen, having formed an attachment to a soldier, gave him a precious ring, which the king had given her. The king, aware of the fact, stole upon the soldier in sleep, abstracted the ring, threw it into the Clyde and then asked the queen for it. The queen, in alarm, applied to St. Kentigern, who went to the Clyde, caught a salmon with the ring in its mouth, handed it to the queen and was thus the means of restoring peace to the royal couple.—Pearson's Weekly.

Man's Possibilities.

Man is the crowning work of God on earth; but, though so nobly endowed, we must not forget that we are the lofty children of a race whose lowest forms lie prostrate within the water, having no higher aspiration than the desire for food. And we cannot understand the possible degradation and moral wretchedness of man without knowing that his physical nature is rooted in all the material characteristics that belong to his type and link him even with the fish. The moral and intellectual gifts that distinguish him from them are his use or abuse. He may, if he will, abjure his better nature and be vertebrate more than man. He may sink as low as the lowest of his type, or he may rise to a spiritual height that will make that which distinguishes him from the rest far more the controlling element of his being than that which unites him with them.—Agassiz.

Valor.

Blowhard set discoursing upon valor to his ragged cronies.

"T," he blew, "fear no man who lives."

"But thou fearest me," rasped a midget vixen. "Home with thee!"

Blue gilled, he followed his wife, the crowd loud jeering.

Within she turned to those who soon filled the doorway.

"Mark ye," she blew, "that it is I who fear no man!"

"But thou fearest me," squeaked the littlest mouse in the county.

With a shriek of mad terror Dame Blowhard leaped chairward.

Whereupon the merry beggars held their aching sides.—Lippincott's.

Making Montenegro.

The peasants of Montenegro have a quaint legend to account for the rock strewn appearance of their country. They will tell you that when the world was being created the Creator and the angel of creation were flying over chaos. The angel was carrying in a sack the rocks which were to make the mountains of the world when suddenly the sack burst, the rocks fell down, and—that is Montenegro!

Not Strange at All.

Mrs. Wheeler's family and the new baby were being freely discussed by their next door neighbor.

"Isn't it strange they didn't name the baby after her rich uncle?" said one.

"No; he looked at it and said he'd give them $15,000 not to."—Lippincott's.

Miss Mindel..... Elizabeth Miller

Mr. Brown..... Duncan McKee

MISS MINDEL, as President of a reform league, was the target for the troubles of many folk who turned to her for assistance and advice. One day she received a letter containing pitiful narrations of the insupportable conditions in some tenements belonging to the Union Realty company for which very unjust rentals were also charged. She took the matter up, writing very sharply to James Boliver, president of the company. Mr. Boliver ran his business on the comfortable theory that every man had his price, and when he felt any one was going to make things unpleasant for him he admitted himself willing to pay that price. He applied this theory to Miss Mindel and wrote to her very tactfully, asking her to cut him in.

Miss Mindel was a bit skeptical of the letter, though she did not fully grasp its import, and decided to confide her difficulties to the newspapers before she got into deep water. She happened to drift into the office of the Comet first of all, almost into the arms of Miss Dolly Desmond, to whom she immediately told her story. Miss Desmond was very alert to the situation and proposed that she go, impersonating Miss Mindel, and see what would happen. Miss Mindel agreed warmly with this plan, and accordingly Dolly presented herself at Mr. Boliver's office. She found him the same of suaveness; he discovered her amiability personified, and they speedily came to a deal in which a check for $5,000 changed hands. Dolly wrote a receipt for the check on the typewriter, making a carbon copy, which she took away with her.

Elated with her success, Dolly was on the point of departing when she met Mr. Brown, her former employer and a director of the company. Mr. Brown recognized her instantly and there was nothing for her to do but to make a sudden and daring exit down the back escape. By so doing she reached her newspaper safely with her incendiary story, and a mighty good looking scoop it made on the front page. As Dolly read it she chuckled at the way she had put one over that time.

"The Girl Bandit."

The country roundabout was beset with bandits who showed no respect for the stage route, other than as a source of income. When Arthur was newly elected sheriff, he decided to end the lucrative profession of banditry in his community, directing on the subject to a considerable extent as he sat on his sweetheart's front step.

Tearing Cards.
 At the Hatter's club in Paris not long ago a man achieved a record by tearing a pack of playing cards in one pull—time, 2 minutes 32 seconds. The events in this card tearing contest were:

Tearing the greatest possible number of cards tied together top and bottom—time allowance, three minutes; tearing a pack of eighty cards in the quickest possible time; tearing the greatest possible number of cards in four.

This is a form of "sport" wherein many Frenchmen specialize. The men who enter the contests are not necessarily powerful, but they possess enormous strength in their fingers, a strength that is further developed by careful training.—Washington Star.

A Nice Point.

None of the maids of honor to the queen of England is allowed to keep a diary. A young lady who did not know of this rule was congratulating a newly made maid of honor.

"And what interesting things you'll be able to write in your diary!" she said.

"But it is an understood thing that a maid of honor does not keep a diary," the other pointed out.

"But I think I should keep one all the same," said her friend.

"Then you wouldn't be a maid of honor!" was the retort.—London Answers.

How a Beetle Makes Love.

The deathwatch is always destructive. In its earlier stages of life it eats up books and furniture, and when it reaches maturity the damage it does is greater still, though not so costly. In length about a quarter of an inch and of a gray color, it does not seem to be a very terrifying creature; but it has a facetious little habit of butting its armor plated head against anything hard it may meet with, such as wood or plaster, thus giving rise to a ticking sound which might, by a good stretch of the imagination, be thought to sound like the ticking of a watch. The poor little beetle, when he causes the ticking, is only serenading his sweetheart. He can play no musical instrument to please her, and so, to prove his devotion, he butts his head against the wall.—Family Doctor.

Flying Fish.

Interesting are the habits of the flying fish, that queer denizen of the sea fond principally in the region of the trade winds. "Does it rise from the sea like a bird?" you ask. No. It shoots out of the waves like an arrow and with outstretched wings sails on the wind in graceful curves, rising sometimes, one might say, to the height of fifteen feet, but not often so high, and then, lowering, it again touches the crest of a wave and renews its flight. This operation may be repeated till it covers a distance, say, of 500 yards in the case of the stoutest on the wing, though very often not half that distance is covered. A ship sailing through the trade winds will often be visited on dark nights by flying fish, which hit the sails or rigging and fall on deck, where, of course, they soon give up life.—St. Nicholas.

"Broncho Billy's True Love."

Broncho Billy was in love with Marguerite Clayton, the belle of the cowboy community, but when a dashing easterner blew in he forgot about his true love and trailed after the girl from back yonder. He even broke a date for a dance with his sweetheart—that is, he forgot he had one—and took the other girl. Marguerite waited for her truant gallant, but when he did not come along went off with another friend.

"Never Again."

Sidney Drew's name in a picture production is adequate insurance of its irresistibly humorous quality. For that reason, it makes as much fun of the return to the camera as he would on the tangible stage, and he always appears in scenarios with some point other than the exquisite situation of falling down or being fallen all over. In his play today he impersonates Rufus Fletcher, a family grouch with a distinct aversion to the specimens of masculinity elected by his daughters as husbands and an ability to make everyone—except the audience—miserable at that account.

Leaving his family in tears and trembles, the old hypocrite betakes himself jauntily to a public ball he has been advertised in the paper and there becomes enamored of a lovely girl, arousing, as a result, the passionate jealousy of her very passionate sweetheart, who, in the ordinary grind of daily life, is a chef, and so entitled to a hungry, temperamental, Mr. Fletcher, in order

This is among the cleverest and speediest comedy dramas being shown, with some exceptionally good acting by the charming Miss Florence Lawrence. Flo has imbibed the diplomatic atmosphere from her association with her father, who is a member of Uncle Sam's secret service, and her sweetheart, who is one of her father's men. These gentlemen are both fond of the girl, but when they want to talk business they find her much in the way, for they think she cannot understand the big problems they have to face.

How she turns the tables on them, and secures the biggest scoop in the most thoroughgoing fashion, is the theme of this film. They are on the trail of a certain Central American grandee, who is suspected of conducting filibustering expeditions, and they have their clumsy detectives shadow him nearly every moment. Flo conducts a neat little detecting stunt of her own, which is quite hair-raisingly exciting for the onlooker, secures the evidence, and then, with remarkable heroism, sends the information anonymously to her sweetheart.

He follows it up, finds the actual articles of warfare ready for shipment, arrests the South American, and then tells the girl what a wonderful thing he has done. She doesn't care, though, for she has her arms around her as he tells of his achievement.

More sold than all other packaged coffees combined

The Reasons Why

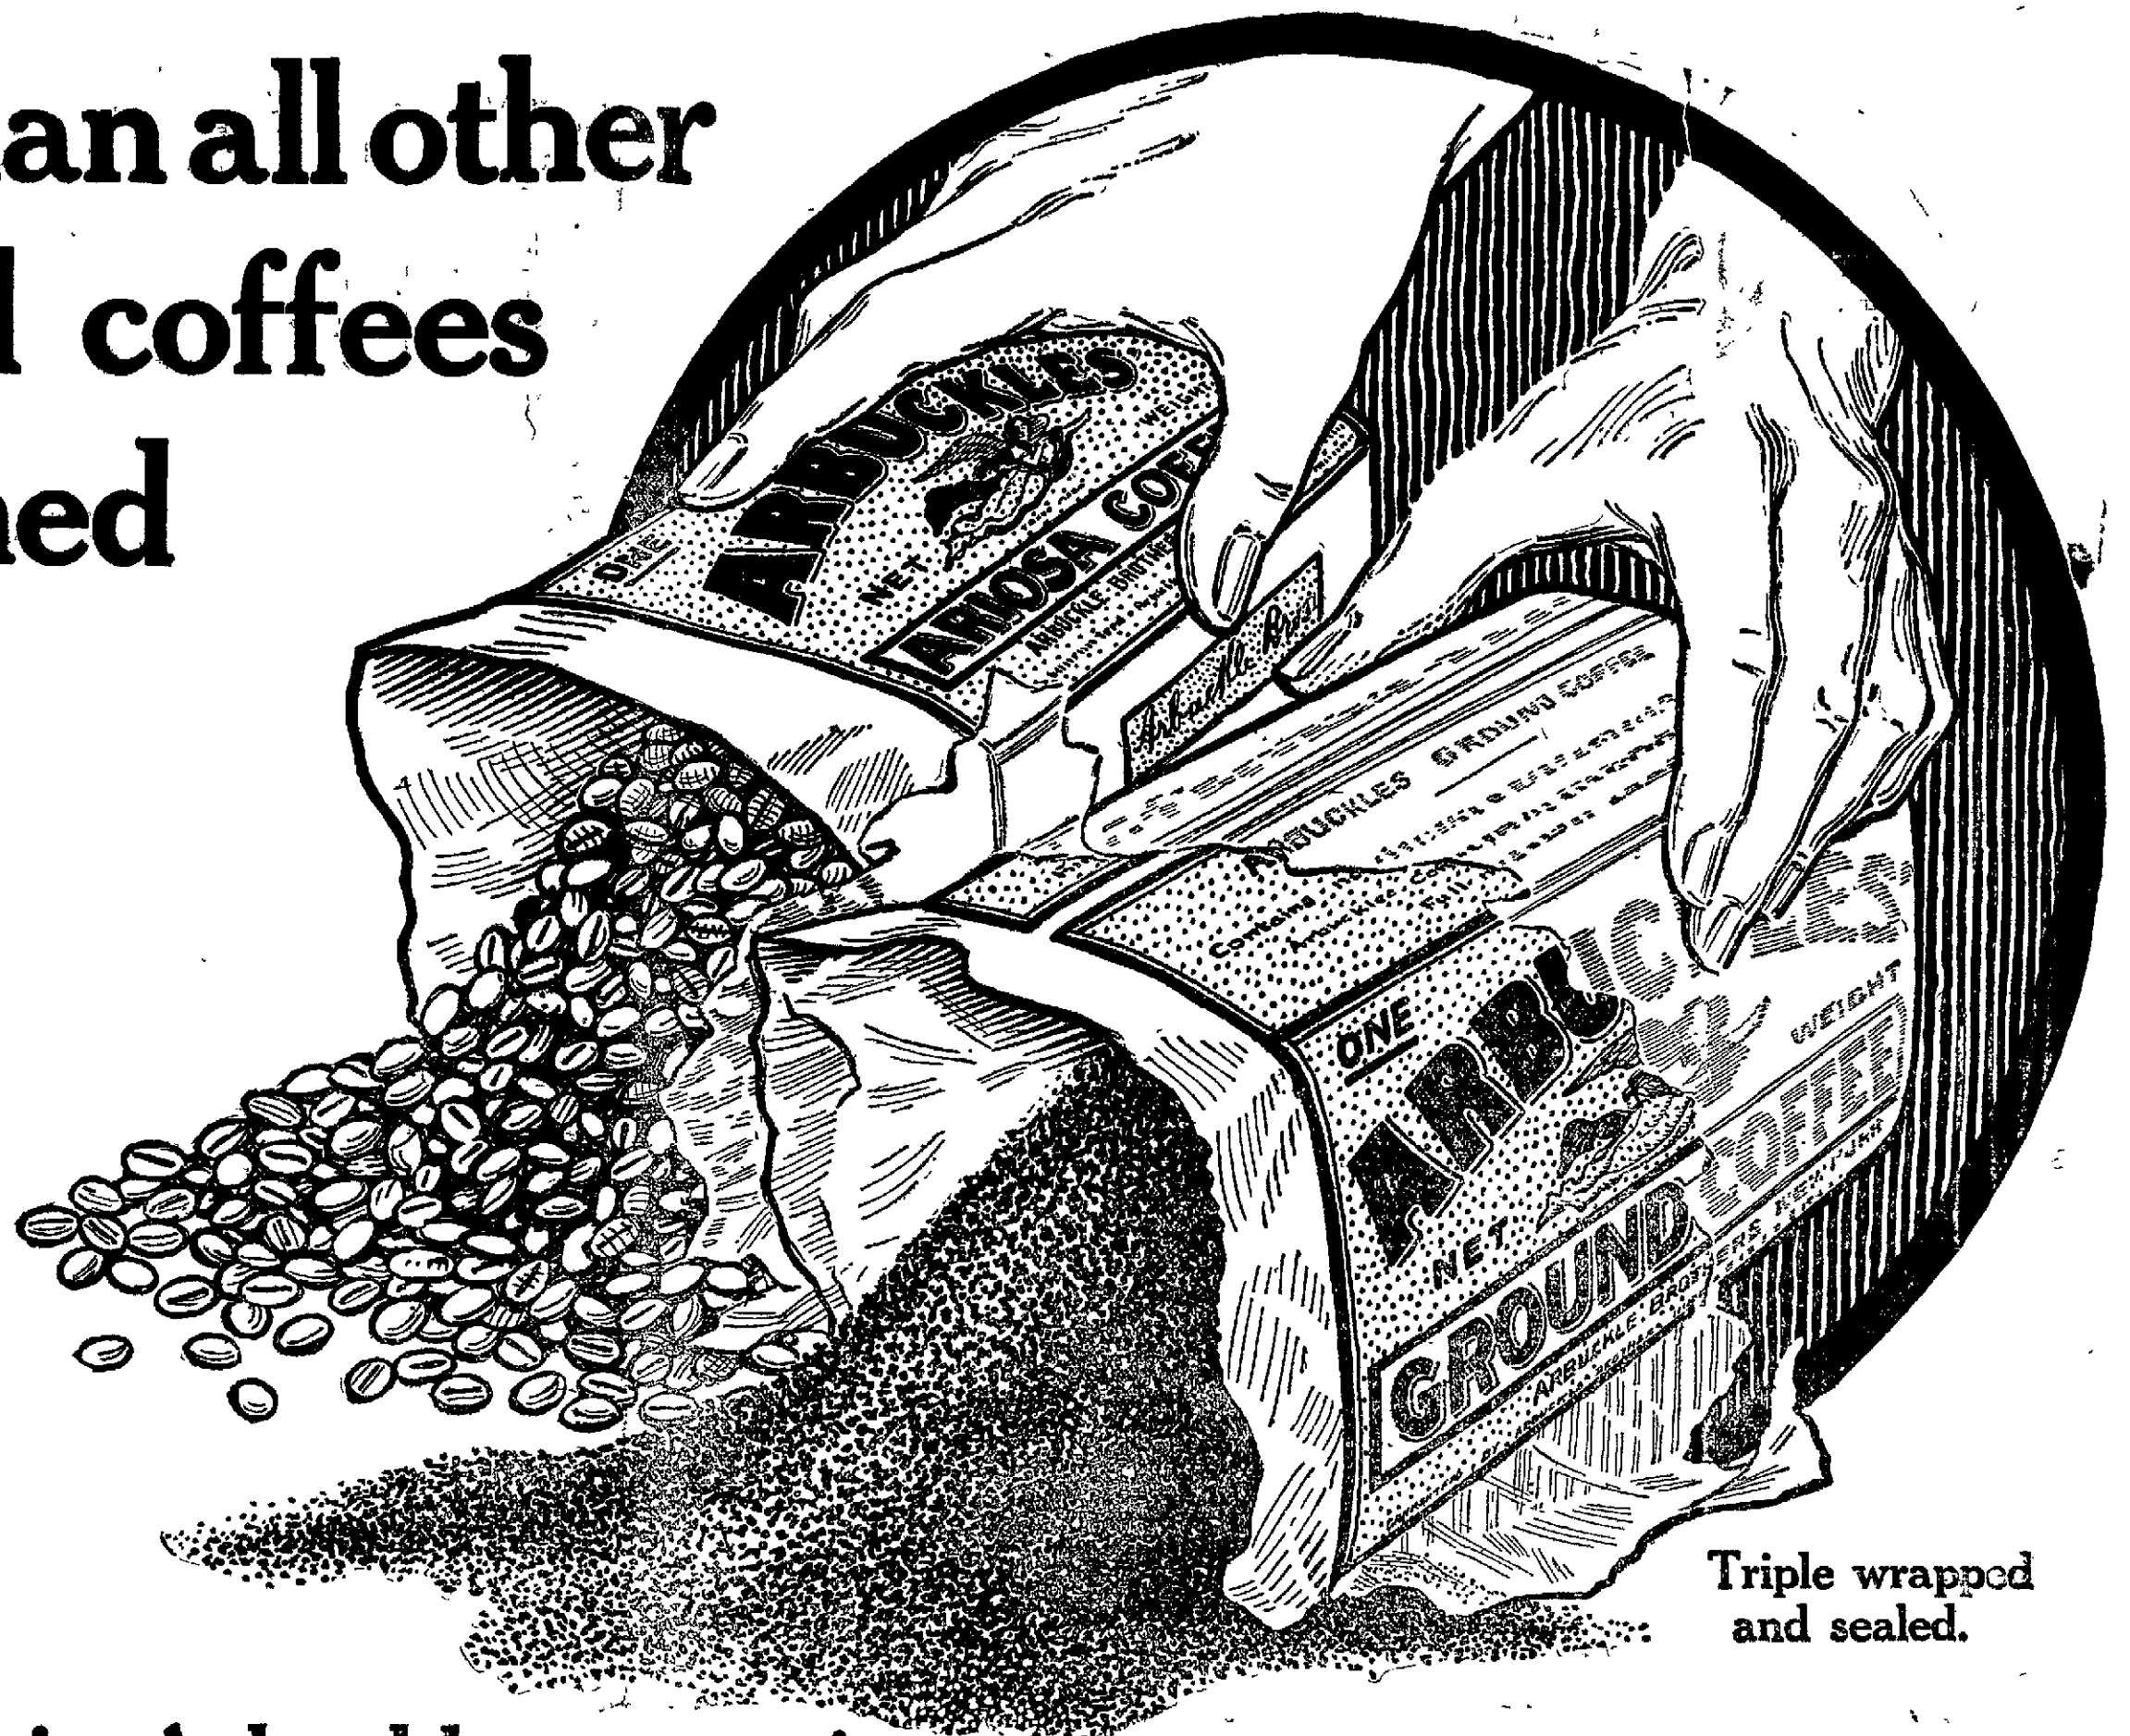

For many years, Arbuckles' Coffee has been used in more American homes than all other packaged coffees combined, and its sale is increasing.

It is this enormous sale, that makes it possible to give the splendid value for which Arbuckles' is famous.

From the moment that Arbuckles' was brought out, years ago, everybody liked it.

They liked its rich, delicious flavor; the freshness with which it came to them in its sealed package, protected from moisture and store odors.

They liked it because it was always 16 ounces to the pound; all pure, honest coffee and always the same; because with it they could rely on their coffee every morning. Because it gave a surprising number of full-flavored cups to the pound—it was economical to use as well as to buy.

Triple wrapped and sealed.

Another new step in Arbuckle convenience—

You can now get Arbuckles' Coffee "Ground" as well as "Whole Bean"

As so many people now want to buy their coffee ground, Arbuckles' is now put up in that way—in an extra sealed, moisture-proof wrapper. This is the final step for your convenience and satisfaction—thus making Arbuckles' coffee suit every need and every preference.

If you have not used Arbuckles' lately, get a package at your grocer's today. Try Arbuckles' now and you will see why it is the favorite coffee of America. Your whole family will exclaim with delight when they get a whiff of its splendid aroma, and taste its delicious flavor.

All the merchants named below sell and recommend Arbuckles' Coffee.

In the list you will find one who is near you.

Go to this merchant today and get a package of this famous coffee.

One woman wrote us: "My married daughter has just started housekeeping with Arbuckles' Coffee. I have used it for 25 years, and my mother also used it."

Begin now to give your family the coffee of the richest, most agreeable, satisfying flavor that you can get for the money. Compare it with the coffee you are paying more for—see what a splendid value Arbuckles' Coffee is.

Before the present season opened it was thought that the Reds were a bit wobbly in the pitching department. Here the season is a month old, and the hurling is getting better all the time. The Reds' pitchers have moved out onto their credit so far that no team in the league has of any other team. The feat of putting over six shut-outs—three against St. Louis and three against Boston—in nine consecutive games, comes pretty near being a record. While Manager Herzog has been depending mainly on Benton, Yingling and Ames, they were well supported by two exceedingly good reserves in Douglass and Davenport, with Adams, Lear and Ingersoll a trio of classy second reserves. These youngsters will get better as the season advances, so that if one of them should be shut out, the others will be equally good substitute to send into the breach. And what is

PHILIPPINES ARE A BIG PROBLEM

Surprise at the Caucus Action on Independence Bill.

PRAISE HARRISON'S POLICY.

Governor General Believes in Appointing Natives to Office, Thus Arousing Patriotism by Means of a Payroll. Conditions Materially Changed in Recent Years.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, May 22. (Special.)—Everybody knows that it would be impossible in any one session of congress to enact into law all the declarations of a national platform. It is not surprising that several important planks of the Baltimore platform have been neglected in the crush of other legislation.

At the same time there is some surprise that a plank which was as important as that declaring for the independence of the Philippines, particularly as it called attention to the fact that it had been in three previous platforms, has been allowed to go overboard. The action of the Democratic caucus precludes consideration of the Philippine bill. And yet this same measure was brought forward in the last congress and advocated with considerable earnestness. It is possible that since the new administration has had an opportunity to send its own men to the Philippines a different idea prevails than when the opposition party was in control.

"Philippinizing the Filipinos."

I was told the other day that Governor Harrison was pursuing a policy in the Philippine Islands which was called "Philippinizing the Filipinos." Governor Harrison's policy is to put Filipinos in the various departments and to appoint them to all offices which they can fill with any degree of success. It appears that this policy is proving popular, and it naturally reduces the desire for independence. Beyond question, every Filipino who gets an office has a higher respect for the United States government, as there is nothing like a salary to make a man loyal. One of the complaints of the Philippines was that they were being governed by "carpet baggers," which is distasteful to any people anywhere.

Predicted Amalgamation.

In one of those brisk running fights between Congressman Henry of Texas and Congressman Murdock of Kansas the leader of the Progressives predicted an amalgamation, which caused no little comment. "I speak," said Murdock, "for the independent Democrats, the independent Republicans and the Progressives, who in time will amalgamate in this country and clean out the Democrats and their secret caucus and the rules committee. Give us time."

Sounded Good to Knowland.

During consideration of a bill in the house Congressman Knowland of California had charge of the time, and Congressman Sloan of Nebraska asked him to yield, which he did, and Sloan closed with this remark:

"We know that the gentleman from California, Mr. Knowland, in his ten years' service in the house has distinguished himself among his colleagues, who admire and honor him as a faithful and forceful representative whose ability, age and experience particularly fit him for the high office which he seeks, and I know the Pacific coast state could make no better selection."

"Would the gentleman like any more time?" asked Knowland.

Still Has the House Habit.

Ollie James of Kentucky still has the house habit. This habit is lasting longer with Ollie than it usually does with members of the house who are promoted to the senate. For a year the promoted members are often seen in the house talking with their old colleagues, but after that the senatorial habit grips them, and they are seldom seen on the house side. Senator James is not only a frequent visitor to the house side, but he still retains the prerogative of attending the house caucus.

Giving Him a Guess.

Chairman Adamson of the interstate commerce committee wanted to pass a bill for revenue cutters, but he told the house that he had been notified by numerous of the great leaders of the house that he could not get the bill through for four hours, but could get it through for two, and therefore he accepted what he could get. Finally during the discussion Congressman Townsend of New Jersey remarked to Adamson: "That is important information. Are you at liberty to give us the source of it?"

"I suppose," answered the Georgia man, "if the gentleman will make up a combination of his information, his intuition and his knowledge derived from experience in this house he can answer that without my telling him anything."

Change in Alabama.

The greatest change that has occurred since the war in the Alabama delegation will take place when the Sixty-fourth congress assembles. One senator and one-half of the membership of the house will be new men, something that has not happened in fifty years. Alabama is not apt to make many changes in its congressional delegation.

Life is a fleeting show; but that's better than no show at all.

First Things

The first white man to navigate the Fraser river in British Columbia, was Simon Fraser, the great explorer of the Canadian West, whose name was given to the stream which he discovered. It was 108 years ago today that Fraser, after having established the first permanent settlement within the borders of what is now the Province of British Columbia, embarked with his companions in a crude boat for a trip down a big river which he thought was the Columbia. The trip was replete with dangers and thrilling situations, for the Fraser river races and rushes and roars through deep canyons in the mountains. Only the most daring adventurers have attempted to repeat Fraser's feat, and some of these have come to grief. Fraser was the son of an American who fought with the British army in the revolution, and who was made a prisoner at Saratoga and died soon afterward. With his mother young Fraser followed the procession of Loyalists to Canada, and at sixteen entered the employ of the Northwest company. In 1805 he was dispatched to the country beyond the Rockies to take possession, for the company, and it was while on this trip that he discovered the great river which bears his name.

STRINGENT RULES ARE GIVEN OUT FOR PURE FOOD

Columbus, May 22.—Citizens who respect their stomachs will be aided by the state dairy and food department in securing wholesome foods if they will go by a set of rules promulgated Thursday. They will be helping themselves and the food department also if they will report any violations.

The rules have to do generally with the labeling of food products so the purchaser can tell for himself whether they are adulterated, and with the posting of placards in public eating places, warning patrons that adulterants are used.

"Lard, if labeled 'lard,' must be pure hog fat. If it contains other ingredients it must be so labeled. One-half the lard on the market is said to contain from 10 to 40 per cent of beef tallow.

Hamburger must be made from pure, fresh meat. The use of sodium sulphate to brighten up old meat is held to be a violation of the pure food law. Other chemicals to brighten the meat also are taboo.

Flavoring extracts must be labeled as to their ingredients.

Spaghetti, noodles, macaroni and vermicelli must have no coloring matter except that imparted by eggs.

Coffee adulterated with chicory, skim milk and renovated butter cannot be used in hotels and other public eating places unless large placards giving notice of such are posted conspicuously.

Today We Celebrate

Embrvo Knights of the Fourth Estate in the many schools of journalism would do well to celebrate today
the centenary of Sidney Howard Gay, one of the ablest and most conscientious of nineteenth century newspaper editors. He was a master of English that was both forceful and polished, but above and beyond his literary ability were his devotion to principle and his keen appreciation of the duties and responsibilities of the profession which was his life-work.
Facility in writing may be a dangerous gift, so far as the public welfare is concerned, if it is not animated and directed by principle. Gay's career is worthy of study and emulation by all prospective newspaper men, although from it he derived neither wealth nor glory, as much of his work was anonymous and the credit which rightfully belonged to him was accorded to others.

Sidney Howard Gay was born one hundred years ago today, May 22, 1814, in Hingham, Mass. He was a descendant of Governor Bradford of Plymouth Colony and the inheritor of a Puritan conscience which permitted no compromise with what he considered wrong. Gay entered Harvard at the age of fifteen, and studied law in the office of his father, Ebenezer Gay.
When the time came for him to be called to the bar he refused to take an oath to support the constitution of the United States, on the ground that it fostered and protected slavery.

From his boyhood Gay had manifested the most profound hatred of the institution of slavery and, when the legal profession was closed to him, he determined to spend his life in working for the abolition cause. From 1842 to 1857 he was editor of the Anti-Slavery Standard and made many lectures. The cause he represented was then highly unpopular, even in many parts of the North, and Gay was often insulted and threatened with death.

In 1857 Gay joined the editorial staff of the New York Tribune. Horace Greeley's great newspaper was then one of the most influential journals in America, and in many respects the most radical. It was an early advocate of the Fourier brand of socialism, and Albert Brisbane, father of the editor of the Hearst publications, was given free scope for the expression of his socialistic views. It was a pioneer journalistic advocate of woman suffrage, staunch in its adherence to the abolition cause, and the recognized organ of the National Republicans. For nearly ten years Gay devoted his talents to the Tribune, and he was its managing editor throughout the civil war period.

In 1867 Gay went to Chicago as managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, then controlled by Joseph Medill, with Horace White as editor-in-chief. He remained with the Tribune for four years, and spent two years more in Chicago as managing editor of the Post. He died at New Brighton, Staten Island, in 1888.

Sidney Howard Gay came of a family long prominent in New England.
His father was a prominent lawyer,
and his grandfather Ebenezer Gay, was for seventy years the pastor of the Congregational church at Hingham. The famous editor's brother, Winthrop Allan Gay, achieved fame
as a sea-coast hatter, and another famous artist, Walter Gay, belongs to the same family, which had its American origin with William Bradford, the Yorkshire man who was one of

RITCHIE'S TERMS MET IN LONDON BY PROMOTERS

Chicago, May 22.—Willie Ritchie, champion lightweight Thursday received word that London promoters have accepted his terms for a match in the British capital with Freddie Welsh the English fighter. His demands include a guarantee of $15,000 or 50 per cent of the gross receipts, $10,000 for the "advertising rights," and $10,000 for the moving picture privilege—a total of $35,000. No date has been set.

SULPHUR DRILLS UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This old time skin healer is used just like any cold cream.

With the first application of bold-sulphur cream the angry itching attending any eczema eruption ceases and its remarkable healing powers begin. Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur, made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated, inflamed skin, the same as you would any cold cream.

For many years this soothing, healing sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticide, but also antipru-ritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

"Germinal" at the Auditorium Tonight.

The Pathe Freres Co., presents
"Germinal" at the Auditorium Theater tonight. This photo-drama is one of the best pictures that has ever been produced. It is a story of French life and of French labor conditions, it is a story full of heart interest and every character is wonderfully acted. The principal parts of this wonderful film are taken by the leading actors of the various Paris theaters and actors who have a world wide reputation.

The characters of this photo-drama are the strongest that has been presented on the motion picture screen. The scenes of this film are all taken in France and every scene is complete in itself.

A STOMACH TONIC

There is a form of indigestion called "atonic" dyspepsia. A tonic means "lack of tone." It is probably the most common form of indigestion but not much is heard about it because people are inclined to group all forms of dyspepsia as "stomach trouble" and the doctors let it go at that.

Lack of tone in the digestive organs means that the stomach is no longer able to do its work as nature intended. The nerves that control it are weak, the glands that supply the digestive fluids are not working properly. Gas on the stomach, sour risings in the throat and constipation result. The cause of the trouble is thin blood. Stomach, nerves and glands are all dependent on the blood and when it gets thin and watery they are at once weakened. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and the first response from the stomach is a better appetite, freedom from distress after eating and an increase in ambition and energy generally. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a stomach tonic and see how your general health improves.

A diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Every druggist sells Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills.

The big Reindeer Week of joy is a success! Thousands have thronged the carnival grounds attracted by the many entertaining exhibitions of Mack's United Shows. The week is now more than half over. Good order has been maintained on the grounds and the promises of good wholesome entertainment and fun have been fulfilled.

Success of the carnival from the business standpoint has been largely due to the efficient work and close attention of the committees, chief of which is the executive committee, composed of Frank N. Wilson, chairman; Eugene Wallace and

Charles Henry. The finance committee, composed of H. D. Hale, chairman; Daniel Murphy and H. C. Serodino, has successfully managed the monetary end of the transaction, while the grounds committee, of twenty-five members, with Gene Schlegel as chairman, has aided in looking after the comfort and welfare of the patrons on the grounds.

BEAUTIFYING SOCIETY DOES SPLENDID WORK

The efforts of persons to beautify their homes on West Locust street have begun to bear noticeable fruits. Flowers are seen in some yards for the first time in years. Several pieces of property have recently changed hands. Nearly all persons living on the street are taking much interest and pride in the matter. Some old sidewalks are still needing attention. The citizens responded liberally on clean-up day in removing all unnecessary trash, thus helping to make the city healthy and sanitary. Would it not be wise to clean up the city hereafter in sections so the filth would not remain on the streets in piles for days, subjected to the caprices of the wind and school children? Then change it from clean-up day to clean-up week and observe it semi-annually, in the fall and in the spring.

Clubs of various kinds are important factors in helping to beautify a city and thus indirectly to boost it. Strangers are often more impressed when visiting a city with its clean, beautiful, and healthy appearance, including its streets and sidewalks, than from any other source. Why not have clubs at their meetings, at this time of the year, discuss such questions as street cleanliness, good sidewalks, city health, civic morals, and a dozen kindred subjects? Some school children called at a house on this street recently, asked the lady of the house for some flowers, and added, "We must not take flowers now without asking for them, for our teacher said so." All honor to such teachers for they are exerting a healthy, moral, and refining influence upon their pupils. If all teachers and all parents would assist in such training as this its influence would be perceptibly felt in a short time.

We also need teaching, instructing persons in walking on the sidewalks instead upon lawns, not to tear up paper and scatter it upon the streets, walks and lawns, and many other little acts of courtesy that are too often not observed.

The lower limbs of shade trees overhanging sidewalks should be removed so as not to interfere with umbrellas carried by pedestrians. Also limbs hanging over the streets that interfere with the tops of vehicles, lads of hay, &c., should be cut off. The reason that so many streets are dark at night is not so much on account of the scarcity of electric lights as on account of useless limbs of trees preventing the lights from shining from one cross street to another. Take a look up many of our streets some evening and see if this is true.

As a general rule many of the lower limbs of trees obstruct all view of the shade except around the roots of the trees where it is not needed. The beauty of a tree demands that it be sanely pruned.

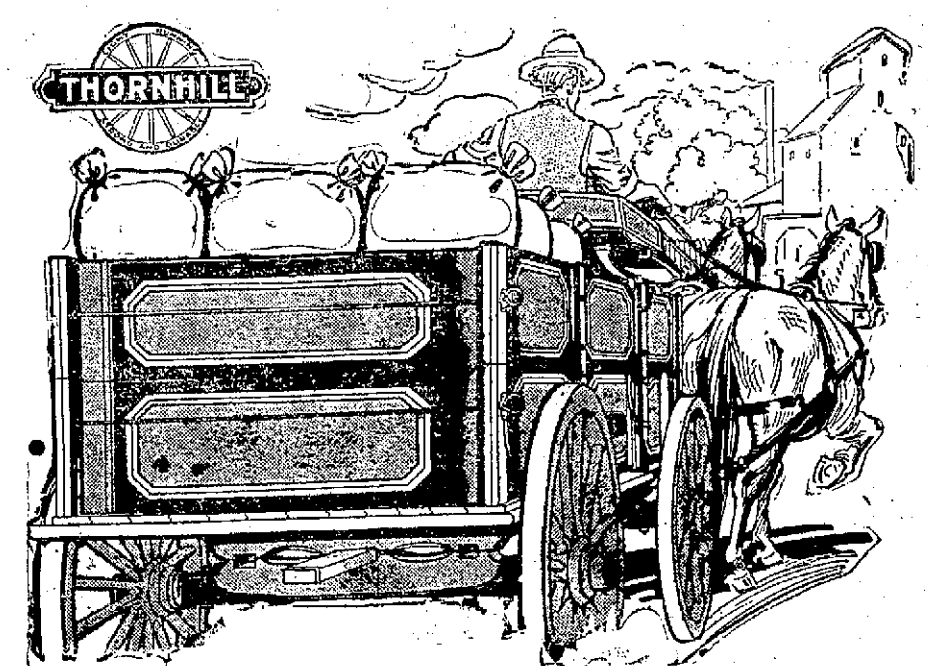

A watering trough and public drinking place for individuals would be appreciated some place in the western end of the street.

Mustard in Ancient Times.
Mustard is one of the most ancient of medicines. Pythagoras, who flourished between 500 and 600 years before Christ, mentions it. Hippocrates, who was born in 460 B. C., employed it. Pliny the elder, writing in 77 A. D., describes three different kinds of mustard and says the seeds were imported to Italy from Egypt originally.

The Romans used it as a stimulant after a cold bath. They mixed mustard oil and olive oil in equal parts and used this as a liniment for stiffness of the muscles. They knew the virtues of mustard poultices and of mustard as an emetic. As a remedy for the stings of scorpions and serpents they pounded it, mixed it with vinegar and applied it to the wound.

They also made a drink out of it, fermenting the seed in a fiery spirit. The liquor thus produced they called mustard ardens, which means burning wine. The word mustard is probably derived from this. —New York World.

THE THORNHILL WAGON

The best known materials — the labor of master workmen — the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery — have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory — machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through — multiplying their strength. The "Thornhill" has a malleable front bound plate that is braced to the hounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the gears from getting out of line and causing hard pulling.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable — non-breaking skeins that insure light running and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine — infallibility accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The axles are of the toughest hickory — the steel axles of the best refined steel.

The sides of "Thornhill" bed are made of poplar. It costs the makers more — but it holds paint better and gives better service.

In addition to "Thornhill" wagons, Phalen & Cunningham carry in large quantities the Union City and Post Bros. Buggies, Oliver No. 14 Sulky Plows, Indiana Silos, Superior Grain Drills, Deering Binders and Mowers, I. H. C. Gas, Gasoline and Oil Burning Engines, I. H. C. Low Left Manure Spreaders, De Laval Cream Separators, and Buckeye, Fence. They will give you the best of treatment and it will pay you to see them.

NOSE AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD OR CATARRH, OPEN AT ONCE

My Cleansing, Healing Balm Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat — Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith — just once — in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. F. D. Hall, 10 North Side Square, Newark, O.

E. Herve Reynolds, of Newark, who recently took up his residence in Columbus, is accredited with much responsibility for the success of "Mikado," given in the Southern theater Monday night, under auspices of St. Andrews' mission, of Trinity church. Following an extended review of the success, the Dispatch adds:

"The stage direction was in charge of Mr. Herbert Reynolds whose many years of professional experience fitted him for the task and his four days of training of the amateurs brought splendid results."

ART TREASURES DESTROYED BY THE MILITANTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 22.—The "Wild women" of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization today continued their terrorizing tactics by making two separate attacks on the national art treasures.

The turmoil of the battle in the vicinity of Buckingham palace where a column of determined women yesterday attempted to reach the king with a petition, had barely subsided when early this morning a woman armed with a loaded can rumped five masterpieces in the national gallery. Almost simultaneously another woman wrecked a picture hanging in the royal academy of art.

Both women were arrested. A little later the magistrate before whom were brought fifty-seven women arrested in connection with yesterday's disturbance was compelled to suspend the proceedings because the accused created such a din that nothing could be heard.

The pictures damaged at the national gallery were a "Madonna and Child with Infant Saints," a "Portrait of Grotto Malatini," "Saints John and Christopher and the Dove," a "Landscape with the death of Saint Peter" and "Christ's Agony in the Garden."

The painting gashed at the royal academy was "Primavera by Giotto Clausen. The academy was filled with a fashionable throng when a woman drew a butcher's cleaver which she had concealed in her clothing and dashed at the picture. Attendants at once seized her and it was only the presence of the police which prevented her from being roughly handled by the irate spectators.

Both women refused to give the names. The National gallery vandals left a trail of blood behind them from cuts from broken glass. The National gallery was immediately closed and all the students turned out.

Today in Pugilistic Annals

1890—Jimmy Austin, California,bantamweight, born in Los Angeles Austin started fighting in his native city in 1907 and engaged in fifteen battles before he was defeated. Young Togo, the Japanese boxer, was among Jimmy's victims, which made Austin mighty popular. In 1909 Austin knocked out Max Weber in less than a round, but was whipped by Red Corbett in a 20-round battle at San Diego. In 1910 Austin went to San Francisco to meet the clever little Eddie Campi, and was stopped in 4 rounds by the San Francisco boy. At one time Austin looked like a coming champion, but his subsequent performances in the ring did not justify the prophets who had predicted great things for him.

1902—Young Corbett defeated Kid Broad in 10 rounds at Denver.

1907—Jim Barry knocked out Martin Burns in 3rd round at Racine.

You can always buy paint for a less price than Devoc Lead-and-Zinc; don't do it; save your money.

Less price probably means less value: short measure, maybe, or cheap quality. "Cheap" paint takes more gallons than Devoc; and that means more hours' work. The cost of painting is by the gallon; poor paint costs most, because more gallons.

Better get Devoc Lead-and-Zinc. Coulter-McKay Co., Agents. N. J.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Findlay, O., May 22.—William Anderson, one of the early manufacturers and business men of Findlay, is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. S. Munson of Long Beach, Calif., according to messages received by relatives in this city Thursday.

He was eighty-seven years old and left Findlay many years ago. The message gave no details.

Mr. Anderson was born in Washington county, Pa., July 26, 1827, and moved with his parents to Licking county, Ohio, when less than one year old. He came to Findlay when a young man in 1856.

While here he built and operated the Findlay Woolen mills, which building is now occupied by the Findlay Iron and Coal company. He later was interested in the Linsco Oil works with J. T. Adams, and was a partner of H. F. Winders, deceased, in the Anderson and Winders store. Other enterprises in which he was interested were the Anderson Lumber company and the Hub Spoke mill.

Mr. Anderson was active in public affairs during his Findlay residence, having served on the city council and the board of education. He was prominent in Masonic circles and was master of the Findlay lodge from 1867 to 1868.

POLICE ARE ON TRACK OF BANDIT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Florence, Italy, May 22.—Mrs. Mary Flavell of Chicago who was attacked and robbed in a train near here yesterday was still living this morning but was unconscious from her wounds. Her assailant escaped from the train but the police say they are on his trail. A separate investigation of the affair is being made by Lee J. Keena, American consul general.

GUARD AGAINST BUBONIC PLAGUE IN PANAMA CITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 22.—With the bubonic plague just 48 hours away from the City of Panama in the Ecuadorian port of Manta, the health officers of the canal zone are taking no chances of infection from that quarter, and daily there is a vigorous rat hunt under the governmental auspices in the ancient isthmian city. The health officer has the rats carefully examined for traces of bubonic plague and is having the hearty co-operation of the other authorities of Panama and even the property owners.

Last month 129 structures were condemned and required to be removed or altered so that they would not shelter rats in the walls or under the floors. The building regulations now require single walls and flooring laid directly on concrete.

TRY THIS IF YOU HAVE DANDRUFF

Or Are Bothered With Falling Hair or Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four fore applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky, and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR BIG YIELD OF DIFFERENT FRUITS

Washington, May 22.—General prospects for a large yield of fruit of all kinds, with the possible exception of peaches, have not been equalled at any time within the past decade, save in 1912, according to the report today of the United States chamber of commerce's committee on statistics and standards on the condition of fruit as of May 2, last. The report deals with all fruits of commercial importance including apples, peaches, pears, plums, and prunes, grapes, oranges, lemons, grape fruit, strawberries, cherries, and the like.

The committee reports that more or less damage has occurred in nearly all section to fruits, but that save in the case of peaches, it is not a matter of much importance.

ROADHOUSE FIGHT RESULTS IN THE DEATH OF THREE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Francisco, May 22.—One man was instantly killed and two others were fatally shot, dying later, and a fourth was badly wounded in a fight in a road house on the southern outskirts of the city late last night. The victims were Joe Bailey and Edward Donovan, bandits, who entered the place to kill the proprietor, Con Regan, and David Williams, one of ten men who are said to have been gambling when the shooting began. Regan escaped injury.

AMERICANS IMPORT EDIBLE OLIVE OIL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 22.—Imports of edible olive oil into the United States during the first six months under the new tariff law aggregated 37,000,000 gallons, valued at $4,600,000 or equal to the value of any year's imports down to and including 1908, says the department of commerce today. Italy was the chief exporter of olive oil coming to this country with France, Spain, Greece, and other countries following.

KILLING OF AMERICAN WAS WITHOUT PROVOCATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 22.—Confirmation of the killing by Mexicans of Richard Urban, an American citizen of German birth was received by the state department today. American Consul Agent Montague at Cananea, reported that Urban and a companion were attacked without provocation at Point Mounted 18 miles west of Nacozari. A band of Mexicans fired from a house without warning. Urban fell dead but his companion escaped.

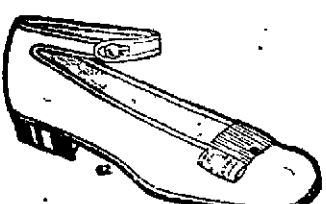

Albert Wilhelm, 17, is believed to be dying at Marion, O., from injuries received when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile. Miss Ethel Hart who was riding on the rear of the machine was painfully bruised.

Today's Birthday Party

When Canada permitted Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman to pack up his laces and penates, his sheepskins from the universities of London, Paris, Edinburgh, Heidelberg, Berlin, and Göttingen, and such other belongings as he had accumulated while professor of English literature, political economy, psychology and metaphysics at Acadia and Dalhousie colleges, and trek across the border into Uncle Sam's country, Canada made a great mistake. However, Dr. Schurman was only returning to the land of his fathers, for he is descended from a New York Dutch family that later emigrated to Prince Edward Island, where the future president of Cornell University was born just three-score years ago today, May 22, 1854.

Prof. Schurman was a member of the faculty of Dalhousie College, Halifax, when in 1888 he received a call to occupy the Sage chair of philosophy at Cornell. He has been president of the famous Ithaca Institution since 1892, and during that period he has found time to write many books, and to serve as president of the first United States Philippine Commission, besides dabbling more or less in politics and public affairs. There was a first rate ruckus in progress at Cornell when Dr. Schurman took charge, but he soon smoothed things out, and since then, with the able assistance of Coach Courtney of the crew, he has made Cornell one of the greatest educational and aquatic institutions in America.

Dr. Schurman didn't float to fame on flowery beds of ease. In his youth, spent at Freeport, P. E. I., he worked in a country store, milked cows and did all sorts of odd jobs. At thirteen he became self-supporting, and saved $30 the first year and $60 the second year, out of a total income, above board, of $100. In 1875, after he had picked up the rudiments of an education in local institutions, he won the Canadian Gilchrist scholarship at the University of London, and after that annexed scholarships at some of the principal universities of Germany, France and Italy. Whenever he heard of a scholarship being offered anywhere he went after it, and usually captured it. Since he took charge of Cornell, at the age of thirty-eight, he has induced scores of wealthy men to part with substantial portions of their unearned increment, and has been as successful in that line of activity as he formerly was in grabbing elusive scholarships.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, M. D., will pass his fifty-fifth milestone today. The creator of Sherlock Holmes was born in Edinburgh, and as a ship's surgeon on vessels running to Africa and the Arctic regions before he began his career as a novelist with "A Study in Scarlet," published in 1887. Sir Arthur is far from being in his anecdotal, but he has a never-failing supply of good stories, his favorites dealing with an experience he had with a cabman in Paris. The cabby startled the author by addressing him by name, and when asked to explain he said: "I read in the papers that Sir Doyle was to arrive in Paris from Nice, after stopping at Marseilles and Lyons on the way. Now I see that you have your hair cut in the Marseilles fashion, and there is Lyons mud on your boots. Therefore you must be Sir Doyle." Sir Arthur, amazed at this exhibition of "sherlocking," persisted, "But was that all the evidence you had?" "Well, to be honest, no," grinned the cabby. "I also saw your name on your luggage."

ONE KILLED AND THREE INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Akron, O., May 22.—Lawrence Winum, 21, son of Joseph Winum, grand secretary of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association was almost instantly killed and three others seriously injured at 1 o'clock this morning when the automobile in which they were speeding, dashed into a telephone pole in South Akron. Sam Cohen, owner and driver of the car was badly cut about the head. Harry Ferberstein and J. B. Berry were badly bruised and cut.

The party had been spending the evening at the lakes south of Akron and were returning to the city at a high rate of speed. On Ira avenue the car swerved and dashed into a telephone pole. Winum struck the pavement with sufficient force to split his skull. He died in the city hospital an hour later.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance with a few days. Agents, Hall's drug store.

Notice to Contractors.

Newark, O. May 14, 1914.
Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of County Commissioners of Licking County, Ohio until 12 o'clock noon, Central Standard time, on Saturday June 13, 1914

and the same will be publicly opened at 1 p. m. of the same day, for all of the labor and material necessary and required to build, construct and complete according to specifications the following Road Improvement:

Engineers Estimate: Grading, macadamizing and improving the Croton and Sunbury Road, from the west Corporation line of the Village of Croton, west and north through Hartford Township, a distance of 2.56 miles. Earth excavation, 18,004 cubic yards. Macadam, 680,44 cubic yards. Estimated cost for two course stone macadam, $31,313.95. Estimated cost for two course slag macadam, $29,517.85.

The plans, profiles and estimates of quantities for doing the work contained in the above estimates are on file in the office of the County Surveyor for inspection by all parties interested in the same.

All proposals shall be made on standard blanks furnished by the County Commissioners and endorsed on the envelope with a pertinent description of the work bid upon, and shall be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Auditor of Licking County, or cash in the sum of $500 as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and the performance thereof properly secured within five days after receiving notice of acceptance. If a certified check is tendered, the same shall be drawn without conditions on a bank doing business in Licking Co., Ohio. If cash is tendered, it must be U. S. Legal Tender. The work shall be commenced immediately after the signing of the contract and shall be completed on or before Dec. 1st, 1914.

No proposal will be considered unless it complies with all the rules and regulations here given, and the rules printed or written on the standard bidding blanks. All bidders are warned to carefully read and comply with the same.

The Board of Commissioners reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the County Commissioners of Licking County, Ohio.

MEMORIAL DAY'S PRETTIEST CEREMONY.

IN the opinion of many persons the most touching ceremony of Memorial day is casting flowers on the waters in memory of those who perished at sea. Sometimes a little boat covered with flowers is used. As the tiny vessel, blossom laden, passes down the current it bears with it the silent prayers of those assembled to witness the observance. Here is an account of the flower ceremony as practiced on a recent Memorial day in San Francisco:

"The tides of yesterday, as they swung backward and forward over the sea, were laden with the blossoms of Memorial day. Though the ocean is fickle and the graves of its heroes are unmarked and unknown, many a wave carried emblems of the love and honor which a freed and united people bear for the loyal men who battled in the years gone by for America's independence, first on land, then on sea, and then for her unity.

"The flowers were destined for the rolling waves which surge above the resting places of the nation's heroes. The sentiments are beautifully expressed in flinging to the sea the flowers which on land grace the identified graves of loyal men whose bravery is recorded in history and whose valor the world sings.

"A solemn hush and awe fell as the chaplain offered up a prayer to the God in whom the nation trusts. A brief prayer it was—a simple petition without oratorical effort, a plea from the nation straight from the heart to the throne of the Almighty.

"After the prayer there were an address, a recitation and an oration. 'Nearer, My God, to Thee' was sung by a quartet. Then followed the throwing of flowers to the waves. With bared heads the entire congregation joined. It was as though each wave which rolled by was intrusted with a burden of floral greeting which would be carried inevitably above the sepulcher of a forgotten hero, there to rise and sink with rhythmic swing, an expression of the people's gratitude to one who had died amid the roaring of cannon and the crash of ship on ship. A detail of the naval militia from the United States steamship Marion fired the minute guns and then the audience joined in singing 'America,' after which the Lord's Prayer was recited.

"But next to the consigning of flowers to the waves the playing of taps was the thrilling item on the program. It was played by a veteran of the navy. The notes floated out over the billows like a benediction."

OLD GLORY ON MEMORIAL DAY.

OF all the many questions that are constantly being asked the war department at Washington to answer the one most frequently put before it is as to the correct position of flying Old Glory on Memorial day at army posts and stations.

To those who have no relation to the military service it is almost the universal belief that the flag should be displayed at half staff all of May 30, but this is not so, for paragraph 444 of the army regulations prescribes as follows:

"444. On Memorial day, May 30, at all army posts and stations the national flag will be displayed at half staff from sunrise till midday, and immediately before noon the band, or field music, will play some appropriate air, and the national salute of twenty-one guns will be fired at 12 m. at all posts and stations provided with artillery. At the conclusion of this memorial tribute at noon the flag will be hoisted to the top of the staff and will remain there until sunset. When hoisted to the top of the staff the flag will be saluted by playing one or more appropriate patriotic airs. In this way fitting testimonial of respect for the heroic dead and honor to their patriotic devotion will be appropriately rendered."

It tickles some fellows mightily to live on tick.

Gold Filled Wire.
Since the perfection of gold filled metal the number of spectacle and eyeglass frames and mountings made of this material has shown a very large yearly increase. Considering the importance of gold filled wire and the many uses to which it is put it seems surprising that so little is really known of this and how nearly equal to solid gold it is for many uses. The term gold filled is somewhat misleading. Merely reversing it almost thoroughly explains both the material and the process.

Filled gold, as it might well be called, consists of a gold shell filled with an alloy of base metal. The popularity of gold filled is demonstrated by the fact that nearly $1,000,000 of fine gold is used annually in one plant alone, and half of this is used in the manufacture of the gold filled wire from which spectacles and eyeglass frames and mountings are made.—American Machinist.

Mirabeau as an Orator.
No one, not even Talleyrand, could approach Mirabeau as a speaker, and curiously enough, this violent, emotional man was, as orator, perfectly self possessed.

"During the debate on the disturbances at Marseilles the Right interrupted his speech with cries of slanderer, liar, scoundrel, assassin. He stopped for a moment and looked at the excited members who were bespattering him with their vile words: 'I am waiting, gentlemen,' he said, 'for these amenities to die down.' Then he went on with his speech at the point where he had broken off."

His face, pitted with smallpox, was ugly, says the author of "Mirabeau," but his very ugliness, transformed by the play of his countenance, was marvellously turned into a source of power. When he shook his "terrible face" he was terrifying and no man dared to interrupt him.

The Easiest Way.
Two little fellows were exchanging confidences one afternoon on the front steps.

"Gee," said one, "I hate to have bed-time come. My mother wants me to take a bath every night."

"So does mine," remarked the other little boy, "but I don't mind it. My father is a doctor, and ma always gets him to chloroform me, so I never know a thing about it until it's all over."—Detroit Free Press.

Constructively "She."
In a well known college for women where the faculty consists chiefly of the gentler sex a meeting of the academic council was in progress. Here and there a lone man sat islanded in the concourse of learned ladies. An amendment had just been proposed.

"Where is the person who offers this amendment?" inquired the president.

"Who is she?"

Whereupon Mr. Flower, the popular young professor of a favorite subject, rose and replied deprecatingly, "I am she."—Youth's Companion.

A. M. George Gets Rid of Malady After Several Years of Suffering.

A. M. George, who has offices at 304 Walsh Building, Akron, was for many years a sufferer from stomach ailments. He tried a good many treatments and took many medicines.

At last he found Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The relief he sought came swiftly. He wrote:

"It is wonderful what results I received. I haven't had a symptom of the old trouble that I suffered for several years. Mr. Felver, my neighbor, who sent for some, claims that he is a different man altogether, and his wife, who has been in poor health for several years, thinks it is doing her good."

The Undistracted Critic.

Last autumn, in a village inn parlor in central New England, I picked up a work of fiction and found, carefully noted in a copper plate chirography on one of the blank fly leaves of the book, a list of the things which had, presumably, most impressed its owner in reading the story. The list ran as follows:

"Page 114, line 3, split infinitive."
"Page 391, line 12, is this construction allowable?"

"Great heavens!" I thought as I laid the volume reverently back on the center table (the slipshod critic in me recognizing the master spirit in the unknown commentator). "What poise, what self possession, what splendidly insulated steadfastness of purpose! Just think of standing unmoved and undistracted amid a spectacle of foudring faiths and sundering systems, with a tremulous, micrometric and accusatory finger upon a split infinitive!"—Life.

A pretty afternoon party was given by Miss Camille Winkle on Thursday out of honor to her guest, Miss Mikenhouse of Dayton, who has been a classmate of Miss Winkle at the National Domestic Arts and Science College at Washington, D. C. The guests were Misses Mikenhouse, Mildred, Robe, Bernice Wintermute, Kathryn Musser, Irma Alsop, Margaret Moore, Clotilde Howard, and Verna Harding.

A party from the Trinity Episcopal church is picknicking at Buckeye Lake park today.

Mrs. Daniel Altshool entertained with a luncheon of pretty appointments at the Country club on Thursday afternoon. The luncheon table was centered with a floral basket and Mrs. Altshool's guests were Mrs. Fred Black and her guest, Miss Dinkley of Rome, N. Y., Mrs. Charles Stinson, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mrs. E. C. Wright, Mrs. W. A. Dorey, Mrs. J. S. Jones of Granville, Mrs. Blanca Dennis, Mrs. James Fitzgibbon, and Mrs. Joseph Sprague.

The suburban home of Mrs. Carl Welant, east of the city, formed a pretty setting for a delightful afternoon party on Thursday, when Mrs. Welant entertained out of compliment to her guest, Miss Helen Pickhardt of Circleville. Spring flowers varied as to color and kind, were massed with a background of rich foliage. The fragrance of valley lilies, purple lilies and spirea intermingled, and beautiful baskets were filled with these flowers.

Tables had been arranged for bridge and the souvenirs were awarded to Miss Nelle Jones and Mrs. H. L. Maddocks.

Mrs. Welant's guests were Mesdames Walter Metz, Malcolm Baker, Clarence Heisey, Harry Baker, Edward Kibler Jr., Donald Ferguson, Clay Van Voorhis, Robbins Hunter, Frank Webb, H. L. Maddocks, Fred Mosteller, J. Howard Jones, and Misses Ann Sprague, Nelle Jones, Bertha Latimer, Frances Collins, Grace Fulton, Hazel Altshool, Frances Priest. The out of town guests were Miss Fickhardt of Circleville and Miss Fulton Van Voorhis of Granville.

On Thursday evening Miss Hazel Altshool entertained with four tables of bridge, honoring the guest of Miss Mary Sherwood Wright, Miss Louise Wilby of Cincinnati. Varied spring flowers adorned the rooms and the game concluded with the favors being awarded to Miss Mary Sherwood Wright and Mr. Walter Baumbridge.

The guests were Misses Mary Sherwood Wright, Annette Besuden, Frances Collins, Bertha Latimer, Grace Fulton, Helen Beard, Ann Sprague and Miss Wilby of Cincinnati; Messrs. Leon Shinn, Walter Baumbridge, Frederick Wright, Walter Browne, Ewing Webb, Howard Upson, George Upson and Arthur Schawweker.

Mrs. Carl Swisher, Miss Leontine Moore and Miss Ganavra Smith of Columbus entertained with a picnic at the Country club on Thursday afternoon honoring Miss Mary Pollett. A delicious dinner was served at six o'clock to the following guests: Misses Louise Jones, Rhea Ungier, Ruth Lindorf, Eleanor Beecher, Catharine Sedgwick, Mrs. Fred Warner and Miss Pollett.

On Thursday evening a delightful little miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Mary Pollett by Miss Catherine Sedgwick at her home in Hudson avenue.

A number of events honoring Miss Mary Pollett have been announced. On Monday Mrs. Lee Moore will entertain with a luncheon at her home, in Kibler avenue. On Thursday afternoon Miss Lenora Phillips will honor Miss Pollett and on Tuesday evening Mrs. Jay Cooper and Miss Catherine Sedgwick entertain at the home of Miss Sedgwick in Hudson avenue.

The London Street Embroidery club was entertained on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lake. The hours were informally devoted to needlework and a dainty refectory was served. The club will be entertained by Mrs. Walter Mowery on June 5.

Mrs. Mary Long entertained at her home in Buckingham street on Thursday evening with a dinner party of delightful appointments. The hour was six o'clock and for the decorations the color scheme of pink and white was selected. The table was centered with willow basket filled with sweet peas, and encircling the floral basket were miniature brides bearing twin hearts in pink announcing the engagement of Miss Florence Louise Long and Mr. Justin Keeley, with the wedding date of June 24. Pink ribbons extended from each place card to the tiny brides. The Long home was massed with spring flowers and foliage, and the color scheme of pink and white was extended through the various rooms. The guests were, Misses Amy Kuster, Dorothy Kuster, Mary Ganey, Nellie Gorman, Anna McCarthy, Dorothy Connors, Julia Selts, Ester Banton, Mary Keeley. The out of town guests were Misses Mary Hammer and Helen Cavanaugh of Zanesville and Misses Marie Driscoll and Helen Joyce of Columbus.

Mrs. Long was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Keeley and Miss Anna Soder.

Miss Long was graduated from the St. Nicholas academy in Zanesville and has been employed as stenographer for Kibler & Kibler. Mr. Keeley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Keeley and is engaged in business with his father.

Besse Glenn will entertain for Miss Brown and Tuesday evening at her home in Hudson avenue Miss Clara McDonald will honor the bride to be. An evening party will be given on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Morris Kent in Rugg avenue. On Saturday evening Miss Florence Hart will entertain at her home in Buena Vista street.

St. Luke's Commandery, No. 34, Knights Templar, entertained on Ascension Thursday at their club rooms in West Main street. A large curtain had been erected and stereoscopic views were shown. These embraced the life of Christ from his birth to the time of the Ascension. During the showing of the views a lecture pertaining to the slides shown was given by Mr. Frank Beggs.

At the conclusion of the views an informal reception was held in the club rooms and punch and wafers were served. The ladies were guests of the commandery.

Miss Mary Larason entertained with a pretty evening party on Thursday at her home in Hudson avenue when she complimented Miss Minnie Brown. The hours were informally spent and the bride to be was showered with a number of miscellaneous gifts. Luncheon was served in the dining room where the color effect was in yellow and white. The table was centered with a basket filled with white sweet peas and carnations, and the favors were miniature baskets in yellow filled with yellow and white confectios. Hearts and Cupids marked the appointments in the luncheon. Miss Larason's guests numbered eighteen.

THE SICK

Gladys Walker, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Walker of 695 Granville street, was taken to the City Hospital Friday morning in the Bazler & Bradley ambulance, suffering with an attack of appendicitis which came upon her Tuesday. Drs. H. J. Davis and J. P. Latimer decided that an immediate operation was best, and it was performed.

Mrs. Anna Gorman is seriously ill at her home in German street.

John Kennedy, employed at the Wehrle company, is absent from his duties owing to illness.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Joyful Victims of Matrimony.

"I heard a bishop say something today that is just in line with what I have been telling you," said the Bachelor Girl.

The Bachelor maintained a non-committal silence.

"He said," went on the Bachelor Girl, seeing the Bachelor wouldn't comment upon the profound wisdom of her remarks since they coincided with a bishop's, "that the moment one weds, one becomes a candidate for sacrifice." She looked at the Bachelor rather gleefully.

"There seems to be a lot of joyful victims," observed the Bachelor.

"Besides, sacrifice isn't such a lamentable thing, is it?"

"If the other fellow does it, it isn't," replied the Bachelor Girl, cynically.

"But I notice most of us are not in a grand rush voluntarily to sacrifice our desires. That is why I like what the bishop said. He knew that was what was ahead of the persons who married and he warned them. Some never see this for themselves, or think it atrocious advice, and so plunge to their destruction. But coming from a man of the bishop's standing, it will make the rash and unthinking pause."

"But as I said before," replied the Bachelor calmly, "sacrifice is not a thing to be feared. The more of self that goes and the more of love that comes, the better. And that is what sacrifice really is. Love comes and crowds self out. And though to the world, looking on, these may seem to be a sacrifice, to the party interested there is only joy. Do you suppose the husband who makes sacrifices, so-called, for his wife—I don't mean merely humoring whims, but doing things that really contribute to her happiness—looks upon what he does as sacrifice? I don't think such an idea ever entered his head. He is simply happy to be able to make her happy. And don't you suppose he is a finer man than if he simply considered and catered to his own wishes? Seems to me if there were nothing else to recommend marriage, this statement of the bishop's would be one of its big assets."

"I don't think it would be a drawing card for the mob," observed the Bachelor Girl. "Sacrifice as a steady performance I don't think appeals to the majority."

"But when they see it isn't really sacrifice but service," remonstrated the Bachelor, "it seems to me the thoughtful and the fine-souled would not side-step it. The more of the little, egotistical self that goes, the more will we grow into the fine stature of manhood that is our inheritance. And when we see that this process of growing comes from a very happy and joyful manner of living, what more can mortals ask?"

"I am afraid one would have to be very fine-souled to see the whole of marriage that way," sighed the Bachelor Girl. "If I had to sacrifice a lot, I am afraid that instead of being conscious of my development and being joyful over service, I would be very irritable and miserable at having to give up cherished ideas."

"I don't believe it," said the Bachelor. "Every true woman is happy in loving and in ministering to those she loves."

Barbara Boyd.

In an answer filed in common pleas court Friday by attorneys Fitzgibbon & Montgomery, for the Ohio Electric Railway company, defendant in a suit instituted by Virginia C. Smith, the plaintiff is charged with being responsible for his own injuries.

Smith sued the company for damages in the sum of $5,080, which he says he suffered when a Newark-Zanesville car struck a farm wagon in which he was riding, at a crossing, in February.

Divorce Petition.

Mrs. Catherine Hester, wife of Police Patrolman Andrew Harter, filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Friday; and on her petition, presented by Attorneys Smythe & Smythe, Judge Fulton granted a temporary injunction restraining the city and the Newark Trust company from paying him money said to be held in his name. Mrs. Harter says her husband earns $75 per month and owns two houses and lots in Newark. She says they were married in July 1896. They have no children.

Drawing Against Savings

Is often necessary—in fact, that is one of the prime purposes of saving—to provide a fund on which to draw when a real need arises.

But every saver should make it a rule not to touch his savings if he can by any reasonable means avoid it.

The savings account that is drawn on for every passing whim or to gratify a needless extravagance cannot respond adequately when a real and serious need arises.

New York, May 22.—Price changes were insignificant at the opening of today's stock market. Such leaders as United States Steel and Reading were unchanged while Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper were up and down minor fractions. Chesapeake and Ohio rose 3-4 on yesterday's declaration of the regular dividend and Mission Pacific inclined to further heaviness. Chicago Grain.

Chicago, May 22.—Although absence of predicted general rain today put a little firmness into wheat prices at the outset, a decline took place later on. Optimistic reports as to crop conditions in Kansas had much to do with weakening the market. Comparative steadiness of cables, however, acted as a check on the bears. Quotations started 1-4 off to a like amount up but gradually sagged below last night's level all around.

Persistence of unfavorable weather in Argentina had a bullish influence on corn. Trade, though, lacked volume. After opened 1-8 down to Bullfights In Private.

Private bullfights are occasionally given by the very rich people in Madrid and guests are invited to them as they would be to a dinner.

WHAT IS IT?
A Cheerful Soul.
Creditor (determinedly) I shall call at your house every week until you pay this account, sir. Debtor (in the blandest of tones)—Then, sir, there seems every probability of our acquaintance ripening into friendship.—London Tit-Bits.

Criminals at Large.
Gibbs (visiting)—What sort of neighbors have you here? Dibbs—A bad lot. There's a blacksmith who's engaged in forging, a carpenter who's done some counter fitting and a couple of fellows next door who sell iron steel for a living.

The power of necessity is irresistible.
—Aeschylus.
"I'm onto your curves," remarked the bathing suit as the shapely girl tried it on.

Parisian Swashbucklers.
At one time the musketeer was a notable type, common on the boulevards of Paris, of the swaggering braggart. These amiable Parisians were in evidence at the end of the empire. After the war of 1870 they reappeared at Turin's. There upon the steps about De Scholl were seated the famous Alfonso de Almada, Epelata, G. de Borda, Chapron, Feilliant and Gaston Jollivet, who freely employed his valor and the wisdom of his wit in quenching the conflicts. A difficult task, for these altercations frequently were made out of nothing.

"Monsieur," one of the musketeers would suddenly declare to an inoffensive passer by, "you have been looking at me cross eyed. I do not like that."

"No?" the other would begin his reply. "Ah, ha! Then I have lied! There's my card!"

Then there would be a meeting on the field of honor. Oh, that was a beautiful time!

Babies Fear the Force of Gravity.
The first experiment which a baby makes is connected with the force of gravity. It is born with an instinctive or ancestral dread of the unrestrained action of that force upon its own body, and it is said to be able to cling with tenacity to a stick or branch of a tree.

Later on it takes pleasure in dropping miscellaneous objects to see them fall, perhaps to see if they fall all alike.

And a very remarkable fact it is which is thus observed: The most familiar of all material facts and one of the least understood—least understood, that is, of all the simple physical facts which must surely be well within the limits of human comprehension. For if a philosopher is asked why all bodies tend to move toward the earth, why they all fall with steady, equal acceleration unless retarded or checked somehow he has to reply that he does not know.—Sir Oliver Lodge in Harper's Magazine.

Four Leafed Clover.
Since four leafed clover is said to be lucky it might be well to know how it happens that while most clover has only three leaves one is found now and then with four.

According to J. Penzance, who discusses the question in the Archives des Sciences Physiques et Naturelles, clovers with more than three leaves are due to two causes, one hereditary, the other nutritive. After a moist season clover plants with four or even five, six or seven leaves are relatively common, and plants with only two leaves are also seen at such times, but these are very rare.

But some plants are abnormal by heredity and reproduce themselves with the same characteristics in successive years when their environment remains the same, external influences merely modifying the size of the leaves.

Rapid Stars.
Even astronomers are expressing astonishment at a speed record recently discovered among the stars. The Andromeda nebula has been found to be moving in the general direction of the earth at the rate of about 16,000,000 miles a day, or nearly 200 miles a second. This is vastly faster than the motion of the earth round the sun or of the sun in space. It will be some time before the nebula approaches very close to the earth, however. Observations of the nebula by telescope and photographs do not show the slightest measurable trace of movement toward the earth, which indicates that it is so far away that traveling 16,000,000 miles a day is too slow to be apparent. The discovery that it is coming at this rate was made by a study of the spectrum of its light.—Saturday Evening Post.

Complimenting the Judge.
In "Stories From the Bench and Bar" Mr. Arthur H. Engelbach recalls the following story of Sir George Jessel, master of the rolls: One day he was having a point pressed upon him by a barrister named Oswald, who cited words in support of his point from a reported judgment of the master of the rolls.

"Mr. Oswald," interposed Jessel, "I could not have been such a fool as to have said that!"

"Oh, yes, my lord," retorted Oswald, "you were, my lord, you were!"

Highest Mountain In Idaho.
Idaho has only one peak having an altitude greater than 12,000 feet, that is Hyndman peak, near the Blaine-Custer county line. The elevation of this mountain is 12,078 feet. There are, however, several unnamed peaks near Hyndman peak whose elevations are greater than 12,000 feet, as shown by the contours on the Bailey topographic map published by the United States geological survey.

A Cheerful Soul.
Creditor (determinedly) I shall call at your house every week until you pay this account, sir. Debtor (in the blandest of tones)—Then, sir, there seems every probability of our acquaintance ripening into friendship.—London Tit-Bits.

Criminals at Large.
Gibbs (visiting)—What sort of neighbors have you here? Dibbs—A bad lot. There's a blacksmith who's engaged in forging, a carpenter who's done some counter fitting and a couple of fellows next door who sell iron steel for a living.

Boarded by a Pirate.
Miss Gush—Oh, captain, were you ever boarded by a pirate? Captain Storms—Yes, he charged me $3 a day for a bedroom on the fourth floor.—Christian Register.

The power of necessity is irresistible.
—Aeschylus.
"I'm onto your curves," remarked the bathing suit as the shapely girl tried it on.

GOOD WORK OF THE ENGWERSON CHORAL SOCIETY

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, May 22.—The Engwerson Choral Society is to be congratulated on the success of its past year's work. Although the effort to secure a symphony orchestra did not succeed, a course of seven excellent attractions has been presented, with prospects good for the coming year.

As printed on the festival programs the list of three year patrons who agree to pay ten dollars a year, includes Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jones, Granville; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fleck, Newark; Prof. and Mrs. Frank Ray, Granville; Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cuse, Granville; Mrs. L. W. Perry, Granville; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Slack, Granville; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hamill, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ullman, Granville; Mrs. Otto Engwerson, Columbus; Mrs. C. M. Ogden, Granville; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell, Columbus; Miss Florence Beckel, Newark.

Charged With Perjury.

Belle Humphrey, of Manning street, was released on $200 bond by Magistrate D. M. Jones, Friday, to appear June 5 at 1 p. m. in answer to a charge of perjury, preferred on affidavit sworn to by Robert Davis, father of Huber Davis.

Young Davis recently was prosecuted in common pleas court and found guilty on strength of a paternity affidavit made by Belle Humphrey.

In the affidavit against Miss Humphrey, she is charged with having sworn falsely in the trial in common pleas court on Nov. 14, last, as a result of which Davis was required to make settlement.

Constable Foregrave brought the young woman into court Friday morning.

Between Governors.

When the late Senator Bob Taylor was governor of Tennessee he received a letter from an inmate of the Missouri state penitentiary. His correspondent pleaded that his name, too, was Taylor; claimed kinship with the governor and begged him to use his influence with Governor Francis of Missouri to obtain a pardon. A short time afterward Governor Francis received the following letter from Governor Bob:

My Dear Governor Francis—You've got a fellow over here in your penitentiary named Taylor, who says he's kin to me and wants me to help him get out. I wish, if you see your way clear toward doing it, you would turn him loose, and if any of your kind folks get in my way, I'll return the favor.

—New York Post.

Are Lamps.

The intense light given out by the flaming are lamps is caused by giving the carbons a soft core of some metallic salt, which is vaporized by the heat, the vapor, passing through the electric arc, illuminating the space between the carbons.

Barleycorns.

The inch was formerly subdivided into three "barleycorns," these divisions being originally the length of a well dried grain of barley.

The wheel that turns gathers no rust. Old saying.

BARNEY EXPECTS TO WIN.

Barney Oldfield, cigar chewing motor champ, has one more wallo p up his sleeve, he says. He expects to deliver it during the next Indianapolis five-hundred-mile race on the motor speedway, knocking off several foreigners during the process. Barney has signed to drive a Stutz during the coming encounter, and with this speedy buzz wagon hopes to make them all look like 30 cents in a million dollars. His record recently, moreover, has been A. 1., so that those on the inside believe him fully capable of turning the trick. The last time he drove he came within an ace of capturing the Vanderbilt at Santa Monica, being nosed out only by De Palma, after a fierce neck and neck drive.

THE STEEL LOCKS IN PANAMA CANAL PERFECTLY SAFE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 22.—The great steel locks in the Panama canal are as safe as engineering skill can make them, and there is not the slightest danger to life or property in their use, notwithstanding the disclosure of attempted fraud in the supply of proper metal for their construction.

This statement was made at the Isthmian canal offices today when attention was called to criminal presentations found by the grand jury in Pittsburgh yesterday, against five steel makers on a charge of conspiracy to furnish inferior material for the locks. Major Bogges, in charge of the canal offices here, explained that the attempt to deliver defective steel castings, or castings that had not been fully treated and annealed had been discovered by the government inspectors before the material was worked into the locks.

DIVERTING WATER WOULD RUIN PLANT IS KENT'S CLAIM

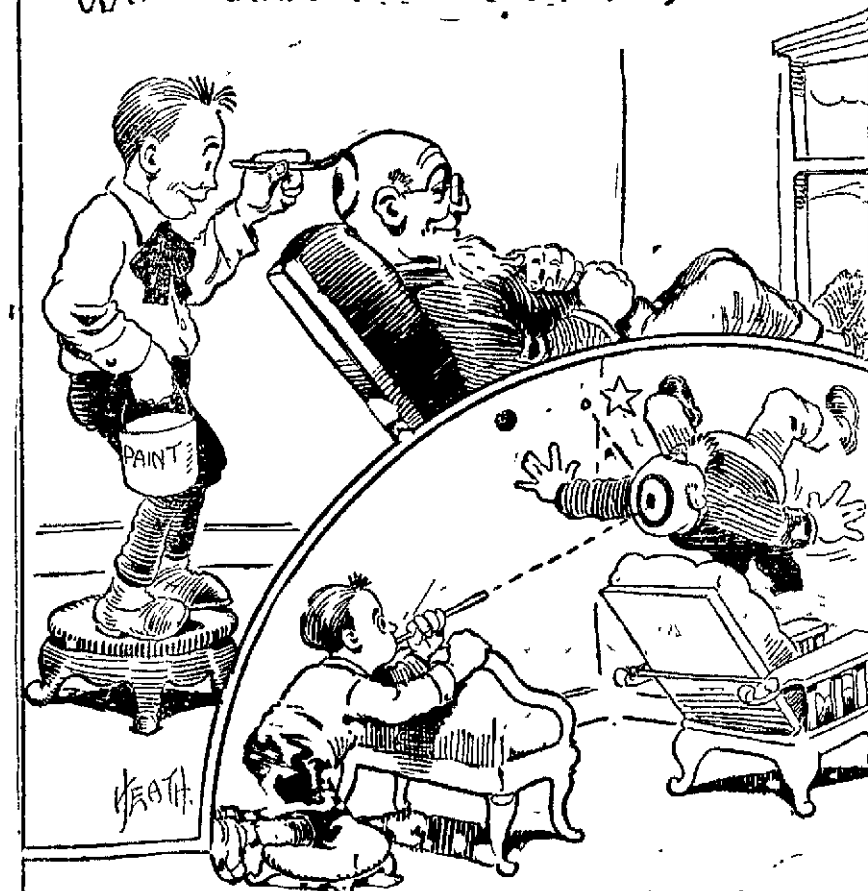

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, May 22.—The Supreme court today was asked to review the suit of William S. Kent, of Kent, to enjoin the city of Akron from proceeding with plans for a new water supply system. The city proposes to divert water from the Cuyahoga river about two miles from the city, and Kent owns a water-power mill and falls, which he says, would be ruined by diverting the water. He values the falls and plant at $150,000, and asks a court order against the city's proceeding with its plans until he has been recompensed. The lower court has decided against Kent.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

SUPERINTENDENT'S INSTANT DEATH BY FALLING INTO PIT

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, May 22.—While standing on the edge of a pit in which one of the piers of the Hopple street viaduct was to be built, Superintendent of construction, John C. Sloan lost his balance today and fell in. Sloan's head struck a double-jawed dirt bucket and he was almost instantly killed. Sloan was from Whitney, N. C., aged 45, and married.

GRIEVANCES PRESENTED TO THE ASSEMBLY

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, May 22.—All the grievances, complaints and demands for which have been accumulating for a year, and some of them for several years in the Presbyterian church in the United States are included in the overtures to be presented to the Presbyterian general assembly. There general assembly here today. There was entire absence of clashes in the election yesterday of Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander of Pittsburgh to the office of mediator.

Chief among the problems faced by the assembly are those of the board of home missions. Of 640 overtures presented nearly six hundred, it is said, refer to the home mission board, its organization and its departments, including those of immigration, Indian work, social surveys, church and country life and church and labor.

TO STOP SALE OF IMPURE MEAT IN CINCINNATI

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, May 22.—A sweeping order, under which he hopes to stop the sale of "immature" meat in Cincinnati, was issued today by Chief City Food Inspector, R. B. Blume, after receiving assurances from the federal meat inspectors in Cincinnati that they would co-operate with him in the matter. Dr. Blume has instructed all inspectors in his department to prohibit the slaughter of calves weighing less than 100 pounds or less than four weeks old. All calves received at the local abattoirs and slaughter houses coming within the ban will be tagged and ordered returned to the shippers.

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN THE UPPER PENINSULA

(Associated Press Telegram) Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 22.—Steamers are moving slowly on account of heavy smoke which hangs over Lake Superior and St. Mary's river from forest fires in the upper peninsula. Last night fog added to the difficulties.

An immense moose which was driven from its Canadian home by forest fires was seen early today by watchmen at the St. Mary's river. The moose started to browse on the government park when the newboys gave chase.

The animal was driven into the lock walls and watchmen scattered in all directions. The boys routed the big beast and chased it through the streets. Milk wagons were overturned and several plate glass windows were broken. The moose finally leaped into the river, disappearing on the Canadian shore.

WASHINGTON STATE HAS TWENTY FIRES.

(Associated Press Telegram) Olympia, Wash., May 22.—Warm weather, absence of rain and brisk winds have led to a serious forest fire situation in this state. Twenty fires are burning, practically none is listed as under control and the dreaded crown fire which kills timber as it progresses was running through trees in Lewis county, having started at Independence. State Forester Ferris has ordered out all western Washington county fire wardens. Hundreds of fire fighters already are in the field for the Washington forest fire association the state and federal authorities.

VALUE OF RHEUMA FROM THE COURT

Judge Barthorst Was Relieved of Rheumatism After Doctors Failed.

If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments. Rheumatism and found they failed, do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barthorst of Fort Laramie, O.: "After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking with crutches."

Such testimony should be convincing. 50 cents of Evans' Drug Store, guaranteed.

COUPLE MARRY TO GO TO CHINA AS MISSIONARIES

(Associated Press Telegram) Findlay, O., May 22.—Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss May Miller of this city to Rev. Edward J. Remenna, of Marion Junction, S. D. Both are graduates of mission colleges of the Presbyterian church and will go to Shang Tung, China, as soon as they are married, where they will become missionaries.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING ON HOME MISSIONS

(Associated Press Telegram) Kansas City, May 22.—The effect of the high cost of living on home missions was pointed out in the annual report of the executive committee of home missions, presented to the fifty-fourth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States here today.

It was asserted that where a missionary could live for $800 a year ten years ago it now costs him more than $1200. For lack of funds the committee has on its hand 250 homeless churches and at least 275 other places where organizations might be effected.

The report of the executive committee of Christian education and ministerial relief reported progress in introducing the "every member canvass" by which regular weekly offerings are obtained from the entire membership.

"The most imperative need of the Presbyterian church is that more young men give themselves to the service of God," the report said.

THREE INJURED.

(Associated Press Telegram) Cleveland, May 22.—John Ohlsen, saloon keeper, was severely injured, and his wife and Fred Lange were badly bruised when an automobile in which they were riding turned turtle south of this city early this morning and pinned the occupants beneath it. Lange was the chauffeur. The Ohlens were returning from a visit with friends in the country.
